

LIBRARY
OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

C
B81wTa
v. 40-41

buTa

7274

BROWN

ALUMNI MONTHLY

VOL. XLI NO. 3 OCTOBER, 1940

*"Build me straight, O worthy Master!
Stanch and strong a goodly cessel,
That shall laugh at all disaster,
And with wave and whirlwind wrestle!"*
—Longfellow

Did you ever think of your investment account as being somewhat like a ship in that it also requires proper ballast and sails?

Ballast in the form of high-grade bonds which, blow high blow low, can be counted upon for their income. Sails in the form of stocks to take advantage of any favorable economic winds that may blow.

But proper balance between ballast and sails is essential. Too light ballast or too much sail and your financial ship may be endangered by the buffeting winds and squalls of economic changes.

Individual attention as to "ballast and sail" is given to every investment account in our care. Let us give you full details about this service which has relieved many individuals of their investment problems.

 Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company
PAWTUCKET • PROVIDENCE • WOONSOCKET

► ► To Bring the Alumni Back Home

► ► BROWN alumni by the hundreds will climb College Hill once again for the annual homecoming October 11 and 12, to renew old friendships, see the University at work and at play and to take part in an extensive program being arranged by the Alumni Day Committee. Publicity sent out early in October disclosed that the high points of the week-end will be the alumni dinner which this year is being held at the Providence-Biltmore Hotel on Friday night, and the Brown-Colgate game. Col. William ("Wild Bill") Donovan of the Fighting 69th and Dr. Wriston will be dinner speakers.

The dinner this year will be an informal "All-Brown" gathering according to James L. Whitcomb, Director of Alumni Relations. There will be cheering, songs by alumni quartets, and music by the Brown Band. Walter Hoving '20, president of the Associated Alumni, will be toastmaster.

A new feature is to be launched on Friday afternoon as alumni golfers meet for luncheon at the Wannamoisett Country Club and then participate in the first Alumni Day Golf tournament. Joseph Olney, Jr., '36, who is in charge of the tournament, has promised some novel prizes and red-hot competition.

On Friday afternoon the alumni will match their nautical skill with Brown's student skippers in a dinghy regatta at the Brown Yacht Club which, as alumni will remember, has been made possible largely through their gifts. H. Stanton Smith '21, will head the alumni navigators and is in charge of this portion of the program.

For the first time, alumni have been invited to a major undergraduate social event of the fall season, and it is expected that many graduates will attend a dance being given at ten o'clock Friday evening by the Brown Key Society at the Narragansett Hotel.

On Saturday morning alumni will have an opportunity to see changes in the campus made during the past year. A Guide Bureau in Faunce House has arranged tours, starting at ten o'clock, of the John Hay Library, Andrews House, University Hall, now reconstructed throughout, the Photographic Laboratory, and of other buildings. Football enthusiasts will attend the Brown Freshman-Rhode Island State Freshman football game at ten o'clock, and at twelve o'clock alumni will watch the Brown-M. I. T. soccer game.

For the benefit of alumni callers, members of the faculty will hold regular office hours Saturday morning and all classes will be open for informal visits. The Faculty Club and University Club will be open for inspection both Friday and Saturday.

Exhibitions have been arranged for the week-end at the John Hay Library, where an exhibit entitled "The History of Alumni Day" will be shown, and at the John Carter

Brown Library. The Rhode Island School of Design will show alumni "Contemporary American and European Painting." Mr. Whitcomb, in releasing the details of this fifth Annual Alumni Day emphasized that alumni should "come early, or late, but come. We have a great deal to show you." He urged that dinner ticket applications be sent in early since seating capacity is limited. The committee assisting Mr. Whitcomb comprises: Joseph Olney, Jr., '36, T. R. Jeffers '23, Alexander T. Hindmarsh '19, Myles Standish '20, Henry C. Aylsworth '20, A. Frederick Haas, Jr., '34, Prof. W. R. Benford '27, Alden R. Walls '31, Thomas W. Taylor '25, Nelson B. Jones '28, Earle B. Dane '11, Roger T. Clapp '19, A. Chester Snow '07, and Carleton Goff '24.

Out-of-town sub-committees have been formed to assist the Alumni Office in publicizing the event. They are: Boston, Charles Butler '36 and John J. O'Reilly '36. New York City, Fred A. Forbes '38. Hartford, David R. Allen

'35, Henry E. Stanton '34, and Paul E. Monahan '31. New Haven, Robert B. Dugan '35.

In the Brown Alumni Suite

► THE Brown Alumni Suite, opened last June at Commencement, is anticipating a banner first season as college opens and alumni thoughts turn to Brown.

Opened, as Walter Hoving '20 put it, "to fulfill a long-felt social need," the Providence-Biltmore Hotel Club lounge has already attracted class committee meetings, Providence Brown Club committee meetings and other special functions. It is anticipated that fraternity alumni groups will use the rooms, and we are assured that the suite will be particularly useful on the night of the Alumni Day dinner, October 11 and after football games.

Director of Alumni Relations James L. Whitcomb has explained that the Alumni Suite has few restrictions and urges that alumni feel free to reserve the suite for private gatherings. He says that it will be perfectly appropriate for an alumnus who wants to hold a private luncheon, dinner or meeting to use the suite, and he suggests that alumni wives may make a reservation if they want to hold a bridge party or similar function. The full services of the hotel are available at all times, but there are no "Room Service" charges or tipping. Mr. Whitcomb asks that reservations be made through his office in University Hall. ◀

TWO BIG DAYS

Friday, October 11

- 1:00. Golfers Luncheon, Wannamoisett C. C.
- 2:00. Golf Tournament, Wannamoisett C. C.
- 2:00. Dinghy Regatta, Alumni vs Brown Yacht Club, Seekonk River.
- 3:15. Soccer, Brown Freshmen vs Providence Central High School.
- 7:30. Alumni Day Dinner, Providence Biltmore Hotel.
- 10:00. Dance, Brown Key Society, Narragansett Hotel.

* * *

Saturday, October 12

- 10:00-12:00. Tour of Campus, Guide Bureau, Faunce House.
- 10:00. Freshman Football, Brown vs R. I. State.
- 12:00. Varsity Soccer, Brown vs M. I. T.
- 2:00. Varsity Football, Brown vs Colgate.

The Start of a New College Year ◀ ◀

▶ ▶ WITH a solemnity inspired by the present day and a traditional ceremony 176 years old, Brown University commenced its new academic year Sept. 25. A total registration of 1,392 undergraduates was reported, including 380 freshmen who had been on the scene for more than a week, learning something of the pattern of collegiate life before them. A faculty, augmented by several scholars from overseas, stood ready to carry on the educational process fundamental in a democracy. Of revisions of the campus scene, including some physical relocations of department, none was more significant of the times than the arrival of a Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps unit and the enrollment of 95 students in it.

Greeting the student body on an opening day assembly, President Henry M. Wriston drew a parallel between events of 1914-1917 and those of today. He said that not only have world events conspired to draw us into the conflict, but that "even more important is the fact that the United States itself is moving toward war." Moreover, he predicted that the United States would inevitably have to send troops abroad as well as supply war materials and economic help to Great Britain if this country becomes involved.

ON THE SOIL OF EUROPE

▶ "You cannot have limited war and total war together," President Wriston declared. "If we become involved in this war, the determination of Mr. Roosevelt or the decision of Mr. Willkie never again to send American boys to fight in Europe will be overwhelmed by the swift pressure of events.

"It will take only a few days and a few bitter words for Congress to strike out the restriction about using armed forces in the Western Hemisphere, or mayhap an Attorney General by some ingenious oversights and some cleverly strained interpretations will find a way to prove that Congress regarded Western Europe as part of the Western Hemisphere . . .

"Prophecy is dangerous, but I run little risk in predicting that if we enter the war, the same forces which kept us from limited participation will operate, and even more swiftly, again. Not only will you fight it," he said to Brown's undergraduates, "but you will fight it on and over the soil of Europe."

He cited the growing pro-Ally sentiment in this country since the Neutrality Act, as shown by the guarantee of Canadian integrity and the lease of British possessions for naval bases. These measures are "active collaboration and coordination of a neutral with a belligerent to help overcome an actual enemy" and "stretch the concept of neutrality to the point of absurdity," he said.

At the same time President Wriston made it clear that the armed might of the nations which oppose the democracies is so great that "it would be folly to be unprepared" for war. The draft, he said, was inevitable and he asked his audience to "accept the inevitable with good grace."

▶ "FROM this point on," he continued, "steps toward war should be taken with eyes wide open and with the question always before us, 'Is this step in the interest of the United States?' How far are our interests and those of Britain the same and how far are they different?

"It seems perfectly evident to me that for the last 20 years we have underestimated the extent of the common interest of the British Commonwealth and the United States. It seems almost equally clear that we are at this moment in danger, at least, of overestimating those common interests."

PRESIDENT WRISTON: He drew a parallel.

The real outcome of the war will be decided not by treaties but by the machinery set up for a working and lasting peace, President Wriston said, scoring the United States for its failure to help bring about a peaceful Europe after 1918.

"I am ready to grant, indeed to assert, that the world must see an end to totalitarianism, but that is not an adequate reason for going to war. You might first decide what you will put it its place, and what price you will pay to maintain the peace after victory is won."

UPPER CLASSES LARGER

▶ ALTHOUGH the registration figure of 1,392 was 24 under that for 1939-40, late registrations may increase the enrollment, according to Dean Samuel T. Arnold. The University found registration gains in the senior and junior classes, Dean Arnold said. It was felt that the call for volunteer enlistments in the army might have decreased the enrollment of both classes. This year there are 297 seniors as compared with 285 a year ago, and 333 juniors as against 327. There are 12 fewer sophomores this year, with 374 registered. The freshmen number is 380. Last year there were 414. Eight special students are listed for the new year. A year ago there were four.

A score of newcomers to the Faculty includes such men as Dr. Anton Basch, former adviser to the Czechoslovakian minister of finance; Prince Hubertus zu Loewenstein, Austrian authority on the contemporary history of Central Europe; Dr. Irving A. Leonard, former assistant director of humanities in the Rockefeller Foundation, who will direct the new studies in South American Civilization; Dr. Alfred J. Bingham, new assistant professor of French; and Prof.

Sherwood K. Haynes, physicist who has specialized in studies here and abroad dealing with the measurement of cosmic ray intensities at high altitudes. Eighteen new instructors include H. Stuart Hughes, grandson of the Chief Justice of the United States; Dr. Henry Lee Smith, Jr., familiar to radio audiences for his program, "Where Are You From?" dealing with dialectic differences in speech; Dr. Edward F. Litchfield, who introduced civil service into Michigan.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ENGLISH

▶ THE major change in the assignment of buildings this year is the transfer of the Department of English to the former administration building at the corner of Prospect and College Sts., across from the John Hay Library. The building was vacated last May when all administrative offices were moved to University Hall.

Twenty-seven offices, studies and conference rooms have been provided by moving the department into the building from its temporary headquarters at 43 George St. Most of the former administrative offices have been repartitioned and the floor plans changed to meet the needs of the English faculty.

Space formerly occupied by President Henry M. Wriston and Vice-President Adams is being taken over by Prof. William T. Hastings, chairman of the department, and by Prof. Robert W. Kenny and Prof. Sharon Brown. Ground floor rooms where the Graduate School offices and the stenographic bureau were located last year have been made into offices for instructors. The former offices of the recorder have been taken over by Prof. Randall Stewart, Prof. Bernard C. Bloch, and Prof. Henry B. Huntington. A room where students once registered has been made into a conference room.

On the second floor, in addition to various instructors' offices, are the studies of Prof. George K. Anderson, Prof. R. Gale Noyes, Prof. Leicester Bradner, Prof. Israel J. Kapstein, Prof. Ralph L. Blanchard and Prof. Ben W. Brown. A special room has been set aside for the use of Emeritus Professors George W. Benedict, Thomas Crosby and Albert K. Potter.

IT MEANS MORE ROOM

▶ THE Department of Education has moved from its former headquarters at 81 Waterman St. into the George St. building vacated by the Department of English. The Division of University Extension has also moved into the same building from its former offices at 8 Prospect St. These changes provide more room for the Department of Music at its Prospect St. building, particularly for the University's library of recorded music.

The former Education Building on Waterman St., adjoining the Department of Psychology, has been assigned to that department's use. Prof. Walter S. Hunter, chairman, said that the additional building will be used largely for experimental psychology, including the work in vision being conducted by Prof. Clarence H. Graham. There are also offices for Prof. Graham and for instructors in the department.

All of Brown's dormitories have been freshened for the new year by interior improvements, especially in Caswell and Slater Halls, and in Warren House. Other dormitories have been painted inside, and Maxey on the exterior. At the John Hay Library, where a new $150,000 wing was opened last September, furniture has been refinished and interior painting completed.

▶ FAUNCE HOUSE reopened with a redecorated main dining room. Space occupied by University offices last year has been made ready for the Brown Christian Association and student organizations. Several of Brown's principal classroom and laboratory buildings have been brightened and repaired for the new year, including the Engineering Building, Wilson Hall, and the two Metcalf Laboratories. New reading shelves are being installed in the library of the physical sciences. The psychology and music buildings have new outside paint. Other buildings have undergone minor improvements.

In the athletic plant, the tiling of the Colgate Hoyt Pool has been checked and re-cemented. Offices and rooms at the Marvel Gymnasium have been repainted, as well as the exterior trim. The stadium and playing field early were conditioned for the Fall football season.

The University last summer kept the Japanese beetle under control, according to Ellsworth S. Woodward, superintendent of grounds and buildings. Trees, shrubs and lawns "are in excellent condition," he said.

A CAREFULLY SELECTED CLASS

▶ THE carefully selected personnel of 380 freshmen has been chosen from one of the largest number of applicants for admission in Brown's history. About half are high school graduates and half are graduates of private schools. Although most of the class come from New England and other Eastern states, there are freshmen from more Middle Western and Southern states than usual, including Wisconsin, Alabama, South Carolina, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri, Dean Bruce M. Bigelow said. From foreign countries came a few students, too.

First freshman to register was Samuel C. Damon of Montgomery, Ala., son of Samuel R. Damon '16. A newspaper photographer, tipped off by the University publicity office, caught young Damon stowing his belongings in 34 Hope College, the same room his father had occupied as an undergraduate.

▶ TIME was when a freshman did little more than arrive and unpack on entering Brown. Now he appears on the scene more than a week in advance of the actual opening of college, undergoes a series of examinations designed to place him properly in the educational scheme, consults with faculty men about his study plans, gets advice and information individually and with his classmates collectively, and enjoys a social settling down process without harassing sophomores. The Brown Christian Association co-operates with various departments of the University to make Freshman Week pleasant as well as profiting.

For sociability's sake there were four informal suppers arranged by the B.C.A.'s Freshman Week Committee; there were mixers, rallies, movie shows, a Sock and Buskin play, a Brown-Pembroke freshman dance at Pembroke, an intra-squad Varsity football game, a faculty reception, a variety show, and a week-end outing at Camp Yawgoog, with its land and water sports, campfire, religious devotions and camp meals.

In addition to the aptitude tests, designed to help the University determine the boy's ability to do college work, there were chemistry placement tests, language proficiency and placement tests. Among speakers at orientation lectures were: Dean Arnold, Prof. Leslie E. Swain, Dean Bigelow, Dean Edgar J. Lanpher, and Dr. Henry B. Van Hoese. Physical examinations were conducted at the Lyman Gymnasium by members of the Division of University Health and the consulting staff: Dr. Alex M. Burgess '06, chairman, Dr. Ernest Beazley, Dr. Raymond G. Bugbee

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

'06, Dr. Kenneth G. Burton '27, Dr. Francis H. Chafee '27, Dr. Frank W. Dimmitt, Dr. John S. Dziob '30, Dr. Frank E. Harriss, Dr. Herman A. Lawson '20, Dr. Charles A. McDonald '03, Dr. Wilfred Pickles '18, and Dr. George W. VanBenschoten.

COUNSEL FOR NEOPHYTES

► NOT the least important part of all his engagements for the week was the freshman's conferences with his counselor. Under the latter's guidance he arranged his year's program in accordance with his individual interests and needs, and in accordance with his entrance credits. This plan is in keeping with Brown's policy of allowing a maximum of flexibility in selecting courses.

Student counselors this year are David H. Agney, Prof. Campbell B. Beard, Prof. Gilbert E. Case, Prof. J. Sutherland Frame, Dr. Frank P. Jones, Prof. Robert W. Kenny, Prof. Edwin M. J. Kretzmann, Dean Edgar J. Lanpher, Prof. C. Arthur Lynch, Prof. Harold Schlosberg, William K. Selden, H. Stuart Hughes, Gavin A. Pitt, Prof. Carl W. Miller, Prof. Norris W. Rakestraw, Prof. Frederick N. Tompkins and Prof. Paul N. Kistler.

It was Vice President James P. Adams who first welcomed the freshmen into the fellowship of Brown life officially, setting also the inspirational note of their new adventure. In Sayles Hall Sept. 19 he reminded them how significant values were hanging in the balance in the world and "much we regarded as the fruits of our civilization is in danger of complete destruction."

"Peace-loving peoples, including the people of our own land," he said, "have been obliged to turn their eyes from the pastimes of peace and devote ever-larger portions of their national energy and their national wealth to the bulwarks of defense. These things will inevitably make demands upon your thoughts and feelings, but I would urge you to keep clearly in mind that your first obligation and your first interest should be to make use of your experience this year to strengthen you and make you more intelligent participants in the democratic processes which constitute the master pattern of our American way of life.

► REMINDING the class of 1944 that this was not the first time that the University had opened its gates in troubled times, he went on to say, "We share with the nation a growing sense of responsibility for the defense of those treasures of freedom and justice and truth which are expressions of our democratic Christian civilization and have their roots in more than 2000 years of human history. It is the hope of the College that you will continue to enlarge your appreciation of those spiritual values which have come to you through your homes and through your Churches in the form of religious faith.

"College can be for you a preparation for living in all its fullness and richness, with all of its enduring satisfactions. College life can be for you a process of growth, contributing to your capacities for self-reliance and for the assumption of responsibility. It can be a process of self-examination in which you come to know yourself as no one else can ever know you.

"It can also be an adventure, and adventure in living—living among men, living among books, seeing new horizons of thought and feeling, glimpsing new stars of fact and fancy, enlarging your imaginations, strengthening your purposes, defining your goals." ◀ ◀

Appreciative Boys' Clubs

► DR. JAMES L. WHEATON '91, for 35 years leader in the work of the Pawtucket Boys' Club and at present a director of the club, received a meritorious award for his service at the 1940 annual meeting of the Boys' Clubs of America in Boston. ◀

▲
VAN WICKLES HALL: That's the new name of the former Administration Building which, since the opening of the restored University Hall, has become headquarters of the English Department.

Football for '40

Sept. 28:

Brown 41 — Wesleyan 0

Oct. 5	R. I. State
Oct. 12	Colgate
Oct. 19	Tufts
Oct. 26	Holy Cross
Nov. 2	Yale, away
Nov. 9	Army, away
Nov. 16	Harvard, away
Nov. 23	Dartmouth
Nov. 30	Columbia

BY DICK REYNOLDS '31

► ► ENDS, guards, and passers—these are the main necessities of the 1940 Bruin grid squad, about to launch the most ambitious campaign in many years of Brown football.

The loss of four regular wingmen and two star guards makes the line an untested entity, whose strength must remain a question mark until the opening game against Wesleyan. The tackles and center will be manned by veteran operatives, but the ends and guards must first be tried under game pressure before any accurate appraisal of the power of the forward wall can be made.

A positional analysis reads:

► Ends—The graduation of four regular wingmen, including Tom Nash, John Prodders, Bill Bates and Joe Finkelstein, coupled with a paucity of experienced wing material, indicates doubtful strength in this department. John Marsolini and Bob Priestley, both lettermen, are the leading candidates, and the extremities are certain to be capably patrolled as long as this pair remains in the lineup. Marsolini is an excellent pass receiver and Priestley's defensive ability is his strongest asset. But behind these two, the replacements are very slim.

Holdover reserves include Bill Sandblom, former full-back shifted to the wing squad; Francis "Tank" Wilson, 1940-41 basketball co-captain; and Dick Donovan. Steward MacNeill, Jr., son of Steward T. MacNeill, Sr., varsity football player in '12 and '13, Russ Hall and George Delaney are the most impressive sophomores. Sandblom and MacNeill have been showing to particular advantage on the end-around and there is a possibility that either, or both, may develop into a successor to Tom Nash, who made the play famous in 1937 and 1938.

► Tackles—Amos Taylor, Arnold Soloway, and John Occhiello, all lettermen, comprise a trio of experienced linemen who should make the tackle posts the most impregnable of any line position. The 225-pound Taylor, by far the strongest man on the squad, appears to have left tackle clinched, with Soloway the most likely to take over the right side. Occhiello, who can play either tackle or guard, will probably serve as the utility man of the line. Jay Fidler, rugged 215-pounder, and Don Corzine, who at 200 pounds still needs 30 or 40 more before really filling out, are the outstanding sophomores.

► Guards—The loss of Spencer Manrodt and George Mawhinney, durable 60-minute playing twins for the past three seasons dealt the line a severe blow, certain to be felt throughout the 1940 season. Len Lubin, substitute for two seasons, is ineligible, leaving Arnold Eggert the only guard with any varsity experience. Former Connecticut All-State Schoolboy guard, Eggert now weighs slightly more than 200 pounds, and backed by knowledge gained as under-study for two campaigns, the husky New Britain lineman should have a good season.

But a team meeting such opponents as Army, Harvard, Yale, Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Columbia needs great depth as such a key position as guard if any measure of success is to be achieved. Occhiello is being groomed to step into the breach if necessary, and there is every reason to believe that the 195-pound New Bedford veteran will perform as capably at guard as he has at tackle during the last two campaigns. Art Miller, 200-pound tackle of the 1939 freshman eleven, has also been converted, and the consistently creditable performance of the burly sophomore stamps him as an excellent prospect and first-string timber.

Phil Down, chunky captain of the 1939 yearlings, and Walt Mullen, reserve center who may also be switched to guard, will eventually help the situation considerably, having been declared eligible after examinations just before the opening of college. In addition, Walt Joyce and Lloyd Sheehan, reserve holdover backs have been shifted to the line chiefly for blocking ability. Both have displayed considerable talent as mobile guards on the offense, pulling out of the line and blocking well. As the season progresses, Line Coach Denny Myers may be able to uncover a pair of capable successors to Manrodt and Mawhinney from his current guard crop, but, as in the case of the ends, that remains to be seen.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

► Centers—One of the weak spots of the 1939 team during the first half of the season, particularly on offense, the pivot post should be somewhat stronger this year, chiefly because of the return of Bill Crooker, who developed rapidly towards the end of the season and submitted an excellent performance in the final game against Rutgers. Although the smallest of the regular linemen, Crooker is fast, scrappy and endowed with keen powers of play diagnosis. Fortified by a year's experience, the Malden, Mass., product should enjoy an excellent season and help counteract any lack of experience at the guards.

Unless shifted to guard, Mullen will be Crooker's main rival. Mullen gave an excellent account of himself, both as starter and replacement, in several encounters last year and can be expected to push Crooker to the limit for a first-string berth. Henry Ashley and Christy Karafotias appear the best of the sophomore prospects, and although neither is likely to rate a starting post, both are certain to see plenty of reserve action.

► Backs—Despite the loss of John McLaughry and Charlie Blount, who last season ranked with the nation's leading blockers and passers, respectively, the backfield situation looks better than a year ago in speed, power and depth. The return of John O'Leary, 1938 star broken-field runner, out of college the first semester of the 1939-40 college year, is the principal reason why the attack should have more speed.

On several occasions last year, after the team had staged long and sustained marches, the attack bogged down and stalled, due to the lack of a capable climax runner to reel off those final vital yards for a score. Two years ago, O'Leary served in that capacity time and time again, and in the final game of the season against Columbia, the sturdy, shuttle-hipped Bruin gave one of the most sensational exhibitions of "fancy Dan" running witnessed at Brown Field in recent years. His brilliant showings in practice indicate that the year lay-off has not slowed him up one whit and, now pared down to his old weight of 175 pounds, the Maynard, Mass., flash hopes to make this season even greater than that of 1938.

Dick High, the team's leading ground gainer in total yardage last season, will again take over the power running, and it is not too much to expect that the 210-pound pile-driver, who can run through 'em as well as around 'em, will develop into one of the best backs in New England and the East.

► CO-CAPTAINS Lou Duesing and Bronislaw Stepczyk, the first dual leaders in Brown football history, will both bear major ball-carrying assignments, with Duesing also scheduled to double in a blocking role. With the shoulder injury which hampered his playing last season corrected by an operation, Stepczyk is looking forward to a banner year as the Bruins' No. 1 carrier on spinners and line bucks. The equally dependable Duesing will spread his efforts over a somewhat wider area, including ball-carrying, blocking and perhaps even passing.

Ernie Savignano appears to be the real work-horse of the backfield and in all probability, the versatile junior will be called on to block, kick, pass and run. Savignano is the most probable contender for the blocking slot vacated by John McLaughry, and, in addition, has shown an edge on passing and kicking candidates.

Several other capable running backs are available, notably lettermen, Hal Detwiler and Bill Sheehan, while Eugene Coughlin, 1939 squad member, bids fair to develop into a capable passer and kicker.

Jim Torcom, Henry Pilote and Jim Rutherford are the best of the sophomores, with Rutherford probably the most outstanding for running and pass receiving ability. ◀ ◀

Shorts on Sports

► . . . BRUNONIANS hope that dopester Dick Dunkel is as wrong about the 1940 Brown football varsity as he was about the 1939 eleven. Last year in Life he predicted that Brown would top the heap in the Ivy League (Brown didn't). This year he balances matters by putting the Bear at the bottom of the prospective ranking. . . . The International News Service asked coaches and scouts to divide the strongest Eastern teams into three groups. In their consensus, Brown was ranked in Group 3, where also were found Yale, Harvard and Army. Four other opponents of the year were allotted to Group 2: Columbia, Holy Cross, Colgate, and Dartmouth. . . . Bob McLaughry, younger son of Tuss McLaughry, entered Dartmouth this fall. At Moses Brown and Andover he was an outstanding football and track man, like his brother John. Report is that he felt it would be too hard following in the footsteps of John (1939 football captain, intercollegiate hammer standout, president of his class and of the 1940 Cammarian Club). . . . Dick Reynolds '31, athletic publicity director at Brown, is membership chairman of the new New England Sports Publicity Association. . . . In the last academic year Brown varsity teams broke even in 106 contests in 10 sports. A total of 412 undergraduates, 30% of the student body, took part in either varsity or freshman athletics. . . . The U. S. S. Arkansas kept two of Tuss McLaughry's football hopefuls from reporting on time for this fall's practices. Bill Sandblom and Dick Donovan, end candidates, are naval reserve men. . . . First three days of varsity football practice were rainy. The coaches regarded the first as a good omen, then thought the omens too generous as the bad weather held. Don't ask us what the superstition is behind it. . . . Dick High, varsity's leading ground gainer last season and No. 1 returner of kickoffs in the East, spent the summer as a working dude on a dude ranch. Although green to the whole business, he gained standing with the regular cowhands by the end of the season, bulldogging 1,000-pound steers at the weekly rodeos, roping, wrangling, shoeing and riding cow ponies in approved Western style. . . . Lou Duesing and Bronislaw Stepczyk are the first two co-captains in Brown football history. . . . Stepczyk passes left-handed and kicks right-footed, while Eugene Coughlin, another backfield holdover uses the reverse combination. . . . Backfield Coach "Ek" Allen has been coaching Hal Detwiler for the past five years, starting when Allen was coach at Parkersburg, W. Va., High School. . . . ◀

Changed Application Regulations

► A NEW method of distributing tickets for reserved seat games went into effect this fall when the Brown University Athletic Council carried out proposals favorably regarded last year. The new provisions make it no longer necessary to limit applications for reserved seats to two or four tickets for each game. Now one individual may order as many tickets as his group desires, the Athletic Office says, an innovation likely to be popular with alumni since it was prompted by requests from that quarter.

Application games are five, as follows: Colgate, Oct. 12. (Applications closed Sept. 30.) Holy Cross, Oct. 26. (Applications close Oct. 9 at 5 P. M.) Harvard, Nov. 16. (Applications for this game in Cambridge close Oct. 30 at 5.) Dartmouth, Nov. 23. (Applications close Nov. 6 at 5.) Columbia, Nov. 28. (Applications close Nov. 13 at 5.) Tickets will be mailed one week previous to the game. ◀

► ► McLaughry's Giant Tamers

McLAUGHRY

MANRODT

NASH

The All-Star Spectacle

► ► "It was the next thing to seeing a Brown team win that game," said one alumnus the morning after the charity football game that opened New York's football season late in August. And, after all, when the College All-Stars came up with their surprise victory over the New York Giants (professionals who had previously never lost such a game), the contest had more than a few Brown aspects, and all on the winning side:

Head coach of the All-Stars was Head Coach Tuss McLaughry. His aides included Line Coach Denny Myers and Eck Allen and Joe Buonanno, also of McLaughry's staff at Brown. Trainer was the veteran Jack McKinnon, and three players, including the co-captain, were Brown graduates of last June—John McLaughry, Spencer Manrodt, and Tom Nash. The team had been equipped with 29 Brown plays, not the least of them a return of a kickoff in which every man carried out his patented assignment to the letter. The erstwhile collegians won by a score of 16-7.

The comments the next morning must have been sweet reading to Tuss McLaughry and the others. "This was not a group of individuals seeking the spotlight," said Richards Vidmer of the Herald Tribune, "but a well coached, keen and competent machine. And the credit for that goes to Tuss McLaughry of Brown, who took charge of the squad and in a few short weeks (actually it was 17 days) of concentrated drilling put the cogs together so well that they worked as a unit of power and perfection. For some seasons McLaughry's success at Brown has not been conspicuous as far as turning out winning teams is concerned. He set a high standard for himself when he first went to Brown and developed the famous Iron Men, who went through the 1926 campaign undefeated, using practically no substitutions. But McLaughry's ability as a coach was definitely demonstrated by the team he put —together for the meeting and the beating of the Giants. Given the material at Brown that finds its way to other colleges and Tuss undoubtedly would turn out as many winners as any other coach in the country, if not more."

► STEVE OWEN, coach of the defeated Giants, called it "the best conditioned and best coached All-Star team" he'd ever seen. That was praise for McKinnon as well as the coaches.

"The continuity of the All-Stars' attack," said Jesse Abramson in the Herald Trib, "was something you'd expect from a team at mid-season peak. John McLaughry of Brown, the coach's son, called a perfect game. He knew the old man's offense. He really had the Giants running around in circles." John received votes for the game's hero on the basis of his "quarter-backing, blocking, backing up and pass receiving." Dave Camerer in the World-Telegram also praised the way John ran the team—"with poise, confidence and enough daring." Tom Nash got a puff for rushing and tackling the Giant passer so hard that he barely got his pass off and saw it intercepted for the first All-Star touchdown. "As far as the 40,000 fans at the Polo Grounds last night are concerned, the coach of the year is De Ormond McLaughry," remarked another New York sports columnist.

Writing to the New York Times, an unidentified "Brown Alumnus" said McLaughry's feat "definitely showed he can deliver winning teams when he has adequate material." "But," he concluded, "in view of his success with the All-Stars, it is not likely that he will be heaped with blame if the Bruins disappoint their followers this Fall." To this, the sports editor of the Times appended a comment of his own: "Evidently the athletic authorities at Brown University know when they have a good coach. Tuss McLaughry has been retained there for many years, through thick and thin." ◀ ◀

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Dean Brown Retiring

► DR. MARSHALL S. BROWN '92, familiar and beloved figure on the New York University campus for 40 years and senior member of the instructional staff, will become Dean emeritus this fall. His is a memorable record as teacher and administrator, covering 48 years and including many tasks and assignments all of which have been done with care and thoroughness and tact.

He went to New York University in 1894 to teach history, became chairman of the Department of History in the College of Arts and Pure Sciences, head of the same department in the Graduate School of Arts and Science, chairman of the University Commission on Graduate Work, and Dean of the Faculties of the University.

In recent months he has served as acting director of the Hall of Fame. During the World War he was in charge of the Student Army Training Corps at New York University, and for eight years he did his full share of work on the Board of Education of Yonkers, his home city. At its centennial Commencement exercises in 1932, New York University honored him with the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

Bridging Narragansett Bay

► ASSOCIATION of a number of Brown alumni with the $2,900,000 project was recalled last summer when the Jamestown Bridge over the west passage of Narragansett Bay was dedicated. Pictured in a souvenir booklet were: U. S. Senator Theodore Francis Green '87; former Governor Robert E. Quinn '15 of Rhode Island; William R. Harvey '01, attorney, and M. James Vieira '28 of the Bridge Commission; W. W. Weedon '91, president of the Jamestown Chamber of Commerce; and John V. Kelly '11, of the Mack Construction Company, charged with the highway construction.

The bridge, 6982 feet long with a 640-foot cantilever span 135 feet above mean high water, seems even larger for the approach roads add 7442 feet more in length.

The Champion 40 Years After

► WINNER of the first New England Intercollegiate tennis championship, E. Tudor Gross '01 was guest of honor at the banquet held in Providence on the occasion of the 40th New England college tournament, when Brown was host. Besides sharing the honors in doubles, he swept the 1900 singles play with the loss of a single set and retained the crown the following year without losing any sets at all. J. D. E. Jones '93, Graduate student Gil Hunt, ranked among the country's top ten, and Athletic Director Thomas W. Taylor were other speakers.

There reposes in the Brown trophy room a constant reminder of Gross's first tournament triumph. He presented the racquet he had used to the University.

A Transfer to Australia

► ON the 30th anniversary of his entrance into the U. S. diplomatic service, Ely E. Palmer '08, last summer received word of his transfer to Australia, to become American Consul General at Sydney. He has left Beirut, Syria, where he had been since January, 1938, following service as Consul General and Counselor of American Legation at Ottawa. His experience has included terms in the State Department in Washington and service in such important cities as Paris, Madrid, Bucharest, Mexico City, Vancouver, and Jerusalem. He was in Paris as Deputy Consul General when the first World War broke out.

A Rubber from Culbertson

► THEY were on the train with Ely Culbertson, and it was natural that they should suggest bridge to the expert, even though they were delegates returning from the Democratic convention. Culbertson, a member of the Connecticut delegation, agreed to play "just one rubber" and drew a partner against two Rhode Islanders, former Governor Robert E. Quinn '15 and former Lieut. Governor Raymond E. Jordan '17.

On the first hand Quinn bid and made three no trumps, without Culbertson or his partner bidding. Again the expert was silent as Quinn closed the second hand bidding with three no trump, which he made, with an extra trick. The rubber was over, the score of 930 was notarized, and Quinn said he was going to frame that and the 93c taken from the bridge prophet.

Disciples? Not at all. Quinn and Jordan say they use the "Belcher and Loomis" system.

At the Democratic Convention

► ► HAVING previously reported on Brown representation at the Republican national convention, the ALUMNI MONTHLY herewith maintains its reputation for political impartiality by pointing to Brunonian names that were prominent when the Democrats nominated their presidential candidate.

Former Governor Robert E. Quinn '15 was chairman of the delegation from Rhode Island, and U. S. Senator Theodore Francis Green '87, honorary vice chairman, added to his popularity with his political friends by entertaining the delegation at dinner. The Senator was praised on the latter occasion by Joseph B. Keenan '10, former Assistant Attorney General of the United States, who called him "one of the real authors of the New Deal, one of the great governors of Rhode Island, and one of the most respected men in Washington." Senator Green was subsequently appointed chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, succeeding Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan.

In the Rhode Island delegation were: Col. Peter Leo Cannon '18, John A. O'Neill '23, Raymond E. Jordan '17, and Grover C. Haberlin '08. Arthur E. Marley '24 was a candidate for the party nomination in the Second Congressional District in Rhode Island.

New developments in the Republican camp in Rhode Island since the convention have been the accession of Col. G. Edward Buxton '02 to the leadership of his party's campaign in the State. He is Republican National Committeeman. Active in the Willkie organization are: Charles H. Eden '18, president of the Rhode Island Willkie Club; Thomas J. Paolino '28, another of the original Willkie supporters, who was named to the national advisory committee of the Willkie campaign.

An Ambitious Freshman Schedule

► THE Freshman football team will open its 1940 season at home before an Alumni Day crowd on Oct. 12, meeting the Rhode Island State Freshmen at 10 o'clock in the morning. The remainder of the schedule is as follows: Oct. 19—Yale Freshmen at New Haven. Oct. 26—Connecticut Freshmen at Providence. Nov. 2—Dartmouth Freshmen at Providence. Nov. 9—Rutgers Freshmen at Providence. Nov. 16—Holy Cross Freshmen at Providence.

With the Brown Clubs ◀ ◀

Brown Engineering Association

▶ ▶ THE Brown Engineering Association will honor three members of the faculty at a testimonial dinner at the Brown University Club of New York on Oct. 10: Dr. Otis E. Randall '84, Dean Emeritus, Prof. A. E. Watson '88, Emeritus and Prof. W. H. Kenerson '96. Ill health will prevent Dean Randall from being present, but the others were expected.

Howard F. Parker '13, Chairman of the dinner committee, has invited all Brown alumni in the Metropolitan Area to attend the dinner. He urges that alumni, whether or not they are engineers, attend the dinner and show their affection and esteem for three men who have had a major part in making Brown what it is today. The dinner starts at 7:00 and the price is two dollars. Reservations may be made through Mr. Parker at Room 1912, 195 Broadway, New York City.

Providence

▶ MEMBERS of the club gathered at the Crown Hotel on Sept. 23 to hear Brown's football mentor Tuss McLaughry outline his 16th season of Bruin football. Tuss discussed strategy, prospects and material and gave the club much to think about as local alumni prepare for a banner fall schedule that includes seven major games.

The Providence Brown Club, spurred on by the success of last year's post-game luncheons, will meet every Monday this year at 12 o'clock. The club will see moving pictures of the preceding Saturday's game and will hear regularly from members of the coaching staff. In line with the club's policy of familiarizing members with current activities on the Hill, members of the faculty and administration will address the luncheon gatherings "briefly and off the record."

New York City

▶ THE annual Sub-Freshman dinner for metropolitan area undergraduates was held on Sept. 3 at the club house with 50 Freshmen attending. Tuss McLaughry, whose All-Star team defeated the New York football Giants the following night, was the principal speaker. Toastmaster Earle Sprackling '12 introduced Coaches McLaughry and George E. Allen, and Everett Morriss of the New York Herald Tribune. Ralph M. Palmer '10, President of the club, introduced Mr. Sprackling and welcomed the new Brown men in the name of the club.

The Entertainment Committee, headed by Myron Sulzberger '26, announced in the September issue of the Bulletin of the Brown University Club of New York that the fall schedule includes a dinner by the Brown Engineering Association, news of which is carried elsewhere in this issue, and a football dinner in November. There is discussion afoot about a club dance, and it is expected that the club will continue its highly-successful Sunday afternoon teas.

Other clubs might well send for copies of the New York club's Bulletin. It is a wealth of Brown information, a miniature Daily Herald and ALUMNI MONTHLY. Lead article this month was about the All-Star Game with a complete discussion on Brown football prospects. Officers and committees were listed, the complete football schedule was given and the gossip column included items on Alumni Day (Oct. 11 and 12), new track coach George Anderson, and a Thursday evening dinner group of younger alumni. Editor Fred Forbes deserves praise.

DEAN RANDALL: The Engineers will honor him in his absence.

Boston

▶ OPENING its new year with Coach Tuss McLaughry featuring a football luncheon on Oct. 1, the Brown Club of Boston is making a determined effort to reach all alumni in that region and embrace them in its membership.

"The club needs a larger membership in order to be of greater help to Brown," said a communication from Secretary-Treasurer Ernest T. Clough '20. Annual dues are two dollars.

The first of the monthly luncheons was a successful one, with a good turnout to hear about the Wesleyan victory and prospects for the remainder of the season. A sprinkling of non-Brown men showed the interest in the program, and the coach lived up to his promise to give his audience the frank low-down. Royal W. Leith '12, president of the club, presented the speaker at the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The big event on the club calendar for November is the football rally and smoker to be held Friday night, Nov. 15, the night before the Harvard game. The next MONTHLY will have the line-up.

Alta California

▶ THE Brown Club of Alta California held luncheon at The Faculty Club of the University of California in Berkeley, on Aug. 28, when Dean Samuel T. Arnold and Prof. W. T. Hastings of Brown University were the guests of honor.

Dean Arnold gave an interesting talk on some of Brown's recent student problems and the constructive way in which these questions have been solved. He described the effect that military conscription will have on the enrollment at universities, and gave his listeners something to think about regarding the leadership Brown University should take in present national affairs.

Prof. Hastings gave an equally interesting talk, describing recent changes in the curriculum at Brown, and told of the development of student theatricals over a period of years.

Dr. T. Harper Goodspeed '09, presided in his genial and effective manner. He received the thanks of the Club for arranging for this luncheon at The Faculty Club, and for providing the splendid floral decoration for the table.

Others present were: Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn '93, Dr. Stacy Warburton '98, Prof. Carl C. Plehn '89, Col. LeRoy Bartlett '02, Austin K. Allen '04, David L. Bruce '08, Haven A. Cobb '08, Fremont Roper '11, Prof. Merrill K. Bennett '19, Prof. Michael DeFilippis '20, and John J. Rock '24.

Los Angeles

▶ MEMBERS of the Los Angeles Brown Club entertained Samuel T. Arnold, Dean of the College and Professor W. F. Hastings at luncheon on Aug. 29 at the University Club. The guests, who were attending a national convention of Phi Beta Kappa, told of newest developments in the campus and made Brown seem very near. Four members of the class of 1895 were present to hear from two former professors. W. W. Mann '28 was luncheon chairman; he is secretary of the club.

In the Mail

July 24, 1940

Dear Editor:

In the July-August-September issue of the MONTHLY, under the caption, "Brunonians Far and Near," I read that nine members of the class of 1908 are listed in the 1940 edition of "Who's Who in America," and the question is asked, "Can other classes make so proud a boast?"

Well, Mr. Editor, without boasting, for it is nothing more than would be expected of the class of 1900, I can state that there are 12 members of the class of 1900 who are listed in the edition of 1940 of "Who's Who in America." In alphabetical order they are as follows:

Charles W. Brown, geologist; Providence; Fred T. Field, judge; Newton, Mass.; Austin H. Fittz, educator; Natick, Mass.; Ray O. Hughes, educational author; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Waldo G. Leland, historian; Washington, D. C.; Frederick Lent, clergyman, coll. pres.; East Orange, N. J.; Clarence B. Lester, librarian; Madison, Wis.; Frederic C. W. Parker, clergyman, sec'y Kiwanis Int. Chicago; Joseph L. Peacock, clergyman; Saxtons River, Vt.; L. Charles Raiford, prof. organ. chemistry; Iowa City, Ia.; Albert L. Scott, mill engineer; New York, N. Y.; M. Joseph Twomey, clergyman; East Orange, N. J.

Ten of the twelve were at the 40th reunion held last month at Watch Hill, R. I.

The class of 1900 can point with pride that three of its members, Fred T. Field, Waldo G. Leland and Albert L. Scott are on the Board of Fellows of Brown University. Albert L. Scott is the secretary of the Corporation. Two of the class were last year on the Board of Trustees, Clifford S. Anderson and Clinton C. White. Has any class as many as five on the governing boards of the University?

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

The class of 1900 can feel justly proud of the honors that came to two of its members; Fred T. Field was given the highest honor Brown can bestow, the Susan Colver Rosenberger medal. He was also elected to be president of the Rhode Island Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and was chosen to preside at the Alumni Meeting in Sayles Hall. Arthur Osgood Pritchard was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. That is the fourth Doctor of Divinity degree given to members of the class of 1900. I must mention also one other honor the class shared in. Waldo G. Leland was the one chosen to address the candidates for advanced degrees at the annual Graduate School convocation in Sayles Hall.

Yes, it took three presidents (Andrews, Clark and Faunce) to get us through college, but their efforts have not been in vain, so thinks your humble servant,

JOSEPH L. PEACOCK.

* * *

Class Reunions

297 Wayland Ave., Providence, R. I.
July 11, 1940.

Dear Sir:

'90 celebrated the 50th in its traditional way on Commencement June 17, 1940. A class reunion can be compared to a home-coming on Thanksgiving. We come home to mother and enjoy meeting relatives and close friends. A class reunion should be a home-coming to MOTHER BROWN to examine progress, compare results, and offer suggestions to the guides.

This year all were thrilled by the reconstruction of University Hall. It is a veritable leap in progress and has been so well done that criticism is out of the question. It will be a joy forever to returning alumni. Compare it to the condition when U. H. was a barracks or when we lived there in the 80's.

'90's idea of a reunion is to spend as much time as possible on the campus on Commencement, renew old associations and get the thrill of being a college boy again. The old boys would be delighted if convenient places on or near the campus were available to spend a few days at the individual's expense. Any college or university is just what the alumni make it. Why not fan the spark of enthusiasm to attend Commencement annually when we can take away a memory that will make us want to return every year until the end of time?

GRANT '90

* * *

On Behalf of Hockey

August 15,

Dear Sir:

I, on behalf of many of my fellow undergraduates, feel that only through the Alumni can a concerted effort be made towards the reinstatement of hockey at Brown.

The loss of hockey at Brown has dented the social and athletic prestige of Brown more definitely than any other single incident has for a decade. I have seen a loss of pride by the undergraduates themselves. Hockey, the athletic heritage of all New England colleges, gone. Though various enthusiastic groups and even the Providence Auditorium, itself, have argued for its reinstatement, nothing has been done.

Unless some effort can be made by this Fall in starting hockey on an informal basis anyway, the sport will die, as did rowing in the '80's, Lacrosse in '37, and probably wrestling.

Even in these grave times, both politically and internationally, life's problems should not cloud our vision to the extent that as a result our alma mater might definitely suffer. More than any other sport we participated in, hockey had gone greatly towards improving our relations with other colleges and accredited secondary schools. Hockey at most other colleges pays for itself — $850 a year (minimum) to $1,400 (maximum). The hockey team's last trip to Rye, New York, in 1939 netted $550.

I have sent a personal letter to every secretary of each class down through the past sixty years, as a plea, not to help us who are in college or about to graduate to get back a sport we so dearly love, but to give back to your college and mine, an actual possession, a part of her past for many years, that Brown cannot afford to lose — I say this with her prestige in mind and you understand me, I know.

How you alumni might want to aid us, it is hard for me to suggest, but I feel were the Board of Trustees to be contacted by those of us that feel this most sincerely, then perhaps the Athletic Council will revise their decision. Won't you help in this urgent attempt to restore to Brown a vital phase of her being?

Very sincerely yours,

NORMAN S. DIKE, JR. '41.

* * *

Men of the Faculty

▶ ▶ VICE PRESIDENT ADAMS has accepted appointment to the advisory commission which is to study the entire Providence city financial set-up.

Prof. Philip H. Mitchell was one of the three examiners who conducted the first examinations under the recently enacted Rhode Island Basic Science Law. All candidates for any branch of the healing art in the State must come before them.

Prof. Matthew C. Mitchell was the principal speaker at the 14th annual banquet of the National Tobacco Tax Conference held in Providence last month. The head of the Brown Department of Political Science urged the government representatives to be courageous and tax rather than horror to meet necessary expenses.

Raymond R. Willoughby, research associate in psychology at Brown, qualified in the Rhode Island civil service and on July 15 took over new duties as chief of the division of research and statistics in the State Department of Social Welfare. While at Brown, Mr. Willoughby was an associate editor of Psychological Abstracts.

Eleven members of the Department of Mathematics attended the 46th annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society at Dartmouth College last month. Papers on technical subjects in the field of higher mathematics were given by Prof. J. Sutherland Frame, Dr. Dick W. Hall and John G. Herriot. Others taking part in the conferences from Brown were Dean Roland G. D. Richardson, secretary of the society; Prof. Raymond C. Archibald, the organization's librarian and a member of the council; Prof. Jacob D. Tamarkin, chairman of the society's colloquium publications committee; Prof. C. Raymond Adams, a former vice-president; Prof. Otto E. Neugebauer, Prof. Ray E. Gilman, Dr. Willy Feller, and Miss Mildred E. Carlen. ◀ ◀

A Cultural Contribution

▶ DEAN SAMUEL T. ARNOLD has been appointed director of the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges, according to word received at Brown from Dr. Guy E. Snively, Executive Secretary of the Association.

Dean Arnold will have charge of arranging a series of Arts Program concerts, lectures, discussions and demonstrations to be given at various institutions included in the association's 500-odd members. These programs are designed to broaden the cultural life of many campuses, particularly among smaller rural colleges.

Guests from the faculties of institutions in one section of the country will be sent to other colleges and universities in another. These guests will not only appear for a concert or lecture, but will also spend a few days mingling with student bodies and entering into the social and intellectual life of the host colleges and universities.

DEAN ARNOLD: Executive of the arts for 500 campuses.

The Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges was initiated a year ago under a $54,000 grant from the Carnegie Corporation, following a two-year experiment with the Association's Concert Program. Last year more than 100 colleges participated including Brown, which sent Prof. Arlan R. Coohdge, chairman of the Department of Music on his third concert tour for the Association.

Dean Arnold will succeed Eric T. Clarke, who has recently joined the Metropolitan Opera Association. University officials made it clear this morning that the appointment will not conflict with the dean's activities at Brown. He will remain in Providence.

Dean Arnold has served as president and vice-president of the Eastern Association of Deans and Advisers of Men, and as vice-president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. From 1938 until 1940 he was president of Rhode Island Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa. ◀

Brunonians Far and Near ◀ ◀

1854

▶▶ A SABER belonging to the late Col. Nathaniel P. Richmond was recently presented to Mayor H. G. Freeland of Kokomo, Indiana, by Frederick R. Kennedy of New York, Col. Richmond's nephew. The saber, which had been presented to the Colonel by his fellow officers in the First West Virginia Cavalry during the Civil War, will be placed in the Howard County (Indiana) Museum. Colonel Richmond was born in Indianapolis in 1833, was at one time mayor of Kokomo, and later moved to Malvern, Arkansas, where he died about 20 years ago.

1869

The devotion of Dr. George D. Hersey to the Providence Medical Association was recalled in an article in Medical News by Dr. John G. Walsh '06, president of the association. Calling attention to the riches of the State Medical Library, Dr. Walsh said, "The creation of such a valuable file is due to the foresight of such men as Dr. Hersey, who was librarian for 30 years."

1877

The Rev. Thomas E. Bartlett received congratulations on his 87th birthday on Sept. 20. He continues to live on Morris avenue, Providence.

1878

Stephen O. Metcalf laid the cornerstone of the new Market Square Auditorium of the Rhode Island School of Design on Aug. 23. Mr. Metcalf, whose gift made possible the new building, is a trustee and treasurer of the school. The principal address at the dedication ceremonies was made by Dr. Albert D. Mead '91-A, Professor Emeritus of Brown.

1882

Charles H. S. Weaver and his two daughters have the sympathy of the Class in the loss of their wife and mother, Mrs. Marie (Kitson) Weaver, who died in New London, Conn., July 2, 1940. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver had been married 50 years last Feb. 12.

1885

Rev. Dom J. Hugh Diman announced his resignation as prior of the Portsmouth Priory on July 22, 1940, a position he has held since 1929. He will continue as headmaster of the Portsmouth Priory School, a boys' preparatory school he founded in 1926.

1886

Allan H. Willett of Washington, D. C., has moved to 2900 Brandywine St., N. W., in that city.

1889

Judge Nathan M. Wright resigned as secretary of the Republican State Central Committee of Rhode Island, a post he had held for 37 years, on Aug. 15. Judge Wright has been prominent in Rhode Island Republican circles for many years.

1890

Frederick M. Sackett's new address is 1706 Kentucky Home Life Building, Louisville, Kentucky.

1891

Abram Mendenhall is now living at 3408 North Murray Ave., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Frank Hinckley's son, Frank, Jr., a Harvard student, spent the summer as a tutor to two young English refugees according to The Providence Journal. Young Hinckley joined J. P. Morgan in welcoming the boys to Mr. Morgan's Glen Cove, Long Island estate.

1893

Engagement of Miss Grace Harriet Foster, daughter of Mrs. Grace I. Foster, to Robert Burgess Aldrich, son of Edward B. Aldrich, was announced in the summer. Miss Foster is a graduate of Mary C. Wheeler School, Providence.

Dr. Clarence E. Ide has moved from San Diego, California to 620 Marine, La Jolla, California.

1894

New York headquarters of the British-American Ambulance Corps announced last summer that Chancellor Henry D. Sharpe of Brown had given an ambulance to the committee.

1895

Prof. John E. Boodin reports a change of address. He is now living at the University Club, 614 South Hope St., Los Angeles.

1896

Horace Paul Dormon and Mrs. Dormon have announced the engagement of their only daughter, Miss Dorothy Dozier Dormon, to Henry M. Applegate, Jr. of Landsdowne, Pa.

1897

Daniel M. Greene reports his address as 2101 Brighton Rd., Washington, D. C. His office is Room 230, Bond Building.

1898

George F. Troy was appointed United States District Attorney for Rhode Island by Judge John P. Hartigan on Sept. 6, 1940.

Luke J. Cavanaugh who lives in Colorado writes that he hopes to be in New York early in December.

1899

"The Dictator and the Devil," an allegorical poem, written by Severance Johnson, was reprinted in the Congressional Record of June 21, 1940 at the request of U. S. Representative Clyde T. Ellis of Arkansas. A copy has been placed in the archives collection at the John Hay Library where all published works of alumni are preserved.

George W. Parker is living at 18 Elm St., Concord, New Hampshire, having moved recently. Caleb A. Fuller, also a resident of Concord, reports his address as Route No. 2, that city.

G. Safford Beal has retired after many years of service at the State House in Harrisburg, Penn., as engineer with the commission having charge of the dams and waterways of the Keystone State, on which subject his opinion is authoritative. Last summer he and Mrs. Beal toured the Yellowstone and Yosemite, taking in also Portland, Seattle and the San Francisco Fair.

Charles I. Gates and Leonard M. Patton '00 have returned from their summer vacations, spent as usual at North Haven, Me., where they have cottages near one another.

1900

Rev. Dr. Joseph L. Peacock has become pastor of the Baptist Church in Saxton's River, Vt., to which he went last summer after having resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Tarboro, N. C.

Daniel C. Chace, copy editor of the Washington Star, is living with his family at 6 Virgilia St., Chevy Chase, Md. His son, Edgar N. Chace is First Lieutenant, C.A.C., U.S.A., on duty at Fortress Monroe, Va.

Norman Moss reports that his new address is 35 College St., Sharon, Mass.

1901

Retired after many years of service with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Leo A. Dolan is living at 8 Frances Place, Montclair, New Jersey. He spent the summer at Harwichport, Mass.

Donald LeStage is the Chairman of the nominating committee of the New England Manufacturing Jewelers & Silversmiths Association which will name the candidates to be elected at the annual meeting Oct. 24.

Dr. Albert L. Midgley, past president of the American Dental Association, was to read a paper before the association's annual convention in Cleveland last month, discussing "Trends in Dental Education." He planned to point out the importance of the recently-enacted Rhode Island Basic Science Law, which is the only one in the country effective for dentists and of which he was a proponent.

1902

Col. G. Edward Buxton, who succeeded Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, Hon. '21, as Republican National Committeeman from R.I., heads his party's campaign during the presidential campaign in Rhode Island.

The Providence Journal reported that Col. Buxton "will act not only as the liaison between the Republican National Committee and the State organization, but will also work with the State chairman, thus coordinating all campaign matters under one head."

1903

J. E. Bullard had the leading article in the July 4 issue of Public Utilities Fortnightly on "The 'Fifth Column' in Public Service." He is now engaged in free-lance literary and editorial work from his home in Central Valley, N. Y.

1901

Howard F. Hart has begun his 12th year as head of the Department of Mathematics at East Orange, N. J., High School.

Louis R. Langworthy, architect and supervising engineer who has been in California in recent years, moved during the summer from San Diego to 1601 6th St., Coronado.

1905

State Senator Fred C. Broomhead of Barrington seems in good health again after a serious illness during the summer months. He underwent an operation in July.

Robert I. Jameson, former secretary and general manager of J. Briggs & Sons Co., Providence, is now with the H. A. Wilson Company, Irvington, N. J., where he lives at 1449 Clinton Ave. "In Jersey," he wrote your Class Secretary, "where I join the ranks with Gathany, Smith and Breeden, I feel that I have come into the atmosphere of manufacturing activity for which I am apparently best fitted." Bob and his loyal wife have "a daughter married and living in Detroit with a grandson two years old, a daughter in Irvington High School; and a son five years old entering grade school."

Frank W. Stephens, civil engineer, reports his correct mail address to be 5117 Evelyn Byrd Road, Richmond, Va.

E. E. Harkness, special agent with New

How Pneumonia Changes Their Blood

► DR. M. L. CROSSLEY '09, who last winter received the New York Brown Club's first "Brown Bear" award, told the American Chemical Society at its recent meeting that he and his associates in the American Cyanamid Company had discovered that the protein of the blood serum underwent chemical change in animals suffering from pneumonia. The experiments were particularly significant because of the hope of discovering a new chemical method of treating pneumonia and other infectious diseases in human beings.

Said Dr. Crossley: "How infecting agents cause disease, what changes occur, where these changes are initiated, the nature of the resulting products and their effect on the animal, are questions which must be answered before chemotherapy can be highly effective in relieving man of the many ills that now reduce his efficiency, limit his usefulness, and endanger his life. It is imperative to know the nature of the chemical reactions involved in infectious diseases, this knowledge is essential to the future development of chemotherapy."

England Mutual Life Insurance Co. for the past 18 years, and his family are settled in their new home at 57 Ballard St., West Hartford, Conn., to which they removed from Bristol some months ago.

Ralph E. Durkee, buyer with Wise, Smith & Co., department store, has changed his address from West Hartford to 36 Cone St., Hartford, Conn.

Edward W. Weikart, lawyer, is occupying his new offices at 105 South LaSalle St., Chicago.

Judge Allyn Brown's son, Jr., has passed the Connecticut Bar Examination, is now practicing law in Hartford, Conn. Young Brown is the third generation of the family to become a lawyer.

William A. Spicer, Jr., has resigned as first assistant city solicitor of Providence to represent the city in defending water supply suits. Six mills along the Pawtuxet river claim damages because of diversion of water sold by the city to neighboring towns.

1906

Dr. John G. Walsh presided over the meetings of the New England Obstetrical Society held in Burlington, Vt. He is president of the society, as well as of the Providence Medical Association.

Philip W. Marble, son of Robert A. Marble and Mrs. Marble of Ben Avon, Pa., and Miss Peggy Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Henry Vincent Taylor, were married at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York City, Aug. 24, 1940. Arthur Marble, brother of the bridegroom, was an usher.

Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf" is "a document of faith defying reason and moving mountains," Dr. Edgar Sheffield Brightman said in the annual matriculation day address to 270 students at the Boston University School of Theology last month. It was a stirring warning against the perils of Nazism.

1907

William E. Bright, bulk plant agent of Pure Oil Co., with his offices at 346 Main St., Dickson City, Pa., now has 42 stations in his territory, six trucks of his own to do the delivering, and two bulk plants. "I am glad to report," Bill said in a letter to Al Gurney, "that George, my younger son, is entirely well after his illness of two years ago, and is at Harvard Graduate School on a fellowship. He teaches art to four classes a week. He will get his Master's degree in February '41 and his Doctor's degree in June. Bill, Jr., is assistant manager of the Pure Oil agency with me, and has particular charge of the service station work." All the Brights are loyal Brown men.

Maj. Forrest S. Harvey, resident engineer of the Port Hueneme harbor project in California since the beginning of 1939, is at present in Washington as a member of the special advisory board named by Secretary of War Stimson to consult with the Quartermaster General on the defense construction program in force.

Dr. Clarence W. Way of Sea Isle City is a member of the New Jersey Health and Welfare Council named by Governor Moore to make a thorough study of public health problems, problems of administration, hospital facilities, medical care for the medically indigent, insurance against loss of wages during illness, and to develop a general program of medical care for the State.

Thomas L. Heffernan reports his new address as 35 Dartmouth Ave., Providence.

Lee Heyer White, certified public accountant, has been in his new office at 52 Vanderbilt Ave., New York, since July 1.

Zechariah Chafee, Jr., continues as a syndic of the Harvard University Press in addition to his duties as professor in the Harvard Law School.

Homer M. Clark has been re-elected to the Board of Governors of the Sandy Bay Yacht Club on Cape Ann, Mass.

An article in the Providence Journal recalled that Courtland Knowles as a school-boy contributed to a fund which once bought an elephant for Roger Williams Park. Since his was the first money received, the souvenir booklet contained a picture of him in short trousers, and he had a piece to speak at the formal presentation of Roger, the elephant. Courtland is recovering from a recent operation.

"Hallborg Honored" is the heading of an item in Relay, the monthly magazine of RCA Communication, Inc., for August: "At a recent joint meeting in Washington, the Institute of Radio Engineers and the International Union of Radio Scientists, a paper was presented by the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institution describing a new measuring method. The method replaces the magnetic character figure number which has been in use by the Department for more than a century. In the discussion which followed Dr. L. V. Berkner of Carnegie stated the adoption of the new measure was largely due to Mr. H. E. Hallborg, RCAC engineer, whose work with magnetics had created a new interest throughout the field."

Prentice-Hall, Inc., has brought out a new edition of "Advanced Composition" by Robbins & Parker, a justly popular text. Robbins is Dr. Harry Wolcott Robbins '07, chairman of the English Group at Bucknell University, who spent a month of his vacation at Colchester, Vt., going over the proofs. "Western World Literature" by Robbins & Coleman, (Macmillan, 1938) is a firmly established authority, having sold about 10,000 copies.

1908

Leslie E. Swain has been elected to the Executive Committee of the Rhode Island Badminton Association for a two-year term. Les, by the way, attended the meetings of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in Chicago last May.

Former Congressman John J. O'Connor failed last month in his attempt to come back as candidate from the 16th New York District, which he ably represented in Congress from 1923 until 1939. During the summer he was active in The First Column, which he organized to fight the Communists in New York State in particular and in the country in general.

1909

Lawrence L. Larrabee, representing the Los Angeles School Committee of which he has been president, came back to Providence last month in the course of a tour of eastern industrial cities to find out what the schools are doing to aid the program of national defence. He told John Wells of the Providence School Committee that the Providence system of vocational training, begun before the Government suggested it, was the best he had seen since leaving home in August. (John took a modest bow.) At the University Club to have lunch with Larry before he went to Boston were Wells, Poland, Tanner, Bugbee, Whitmarsh, Sherwood, and W. W. Reynolds and A. H. Gurney '07.

Al Leach, observing the 30th anniversary of his association with Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., was the guest of fellow workers in the Providence office, President Collens of Phoenix and other officials from the head office in Hartford at a luncheon Sept. 16, the day he began his career as an insurance man. Al's record in the sales field is one of the country's best.

Albert Harkness, Jr., son of Albert Harkness, and Miss Mary LeGrande Howell, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Howell of Baltimore, were married in Castine, Me., Sept. 14, 1940. John C. Harkness was h's brother's best man. Mr. and Mrs. Harkness, Jr., will live in Providence until December. Then they intend to go to Santiago, Chile.

During the summer young Harkness was a member of an expedition that retraced in a 45-foot ketch the 1500 miles of Christopher Columbus's travels in the West Indies. Harkness, who taught school for a year in Cuba, served as interpreter for the party.

Only 75 Miles to Go

► ONE of the great ambitions of Mellinger E. Henry '99 is to complete the long hike across the mountain trail from Georgia to Canada. This past summer he sent the ALUMNI MONTHLY word that he had completed his hike across Vermont from Massachusetts to the Dominion, leaving him only a 75-mile stretch in Virginia untraveled. Mr. Henry has added to his mountaineering hobby that of collecting American folk music, a field in which he and Mrs. Henry have the status of authorities.

Manton Chace's son, Robert Whitmarsh Chace, is both a sculptor and a theatrical scenic designer. He has modeled a successful figure, "Air Raid," and during the past summer he was scenic designer for the well known Barter Theatre at Abingdo, Va. This fall he will enter the Yale School of Dramatic Art.

Lt. Col. Robert Coker, U. S. A., retired, is now in business connected with the oil fields of Texas and Mid-Continent. His present address is 823 Ogden St., San Antonio, Tex.

New address for the Donald G. Clarks is 5488 Northumberland St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Acknowledgments of the receipt of the Junior Cruise Song are gratefully received by your Secretary from Ede, Mayer, Harrigan, Meader, Bosworth.

The Secretary is pleased to receive Henry Keough's appreciative acknowledgment for receiving his copy of the Junior Cruise Song. His address is 246 Blackburn Road, Summit, N. J.

Margaret Bradbury Bunker, Smith College alumna and daughter of Prof. and Mrs. John W. M. Bunker of Belmont, Mass., was married June 1 to Richard P. Curtis, Harvard '36, in the Memorial Church at Harvard. Helen Bunker, who received her A.B. from Wheaton in 1936, this past June received her degree of Bachelor of Architecture from M. I. T. John assumed

Approving a Subsidy

THE Government's step in establishing a basic export subsidy rate of 3 1/2c a pound on cotton products last August was hailed by Samuel C. Lamport '06, one of the American cotton textile leaders. The step, he said, will permit United States manufacturers to compete with foreign nations in markets abroad. Mr. Lamport is head of the Lamport Export Co. of New York, Fall River, Bombay and Calcutta, and he served as chairman of the Cotton Tolerance Committee of the Textile Export Association.

He approved the subsidy, he said, "because it is placing a premium on production. We should stop paying a premium for what we do not do."

his new duties as Dean of the Graduate School at M. I. T. July 1.

Herbert M. Sherwood signed the appeal sent out by the Rhode Island Christian Committee for Refugee Work last summer. He is chairman of the committee on funds.

1910

Carl Barus '41, namesake of the distinguished Brown physicist, and son of our classmate, Maxwell, was included in the 1940 Honor Roll of Brown's math department on the basis of fine work he has done. Carl is a Deerfield Academy product.

James C. Simpson is field secretary of the Animal Rescue League, with his office at 51 Carver St., Boston, and his home at 1783 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

Henry C. Damon is a partner in the Fabrics Steel Co., 3 Getty Ave., Paterson, N. J., where the Damon family lives at 665 East 23rd St.

Stephen D. Paddock has assumed his new duties as Second Assistant City Solicitor of Providence. A member of the Rhode Island bar since 1913, he has been associated in the practice of law with former U. S. Senator Felix Hebert for the past 20 years.

Robert L. Munson is the new manager of the Springfield, Mass., territory, taking in Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties, of Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., Boston. His business address is 145 State St., Springfield, and he and his family live at 38 Morton St., West Springfield.

Ralph M. Palmer, president of the Brown University Club in New York, is back in harness again after an attack of appendicitis that sent him to the hospital in midsummer.

Ambrose Kinison's son, Ambrose, Jr., is an Ensign in the United States Naval Aviation Corps. He is stationed at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

1911

Seward T. Jarvis, head of Seward T. Jarvis & Co., public accountants, at 40 Broad St., Boston, has become a resident of Plaistow, N. H.

New address for Allen W. Greene in Columbus, O., is 319 Kendall St.

1912

"One of our best" is the way one of his colleagues writes to describe Dr. Ernest M. Daland of Boston, whose paper before the American Radium Society was reported in the July issue. And the list of his affiliations is eloquent in suggesting the importance of this authority's work: Chief of Staff and Surgeon, Pondville State Cancer Hospital; Medical Director, Cancer Section, State Sanatorium at Westfield; Instructor in Surgery, Harvard Medical School; Assistant Visiting Surgeon, Massachusetts General Hospital; Consulting Surgeon at Huntington Hospital and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary; Courtesy Staff of Faulkner, Deaconness, Palmer and Beth Israel Hospitals; Member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the American Medical Association, the Boston Surgical Society, the New England Surgical Society and the American College of Surgeons.

William A. Weidman may be reached in care of the Philip Commercial Corporation, Manila, Philippines.

Professor R. R. Martel has a new address. He may be reached at 809 Fairfield Circle, Pasadena, Calif.

Miss Thelma T. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Smith of East Providence, is engaged to marry Clifton B. Brown of that town.

W. Randolph Burgess, Vice-Chairman of the National City Bank of New York, spoke at the annual meeting of the national bank division of the American Bankers Association on Sept. 23 at Atlantic City. His topic was "Financing the Defense Program."

As noted elsewhere, William Scholze's daughter, Gretchen, recently became engaged to Geoffrey Graham '36. Bill's son, Fred, is in the sophomore class at Brown.

Terry McGuire's son Jim, a recent Brown graduate, has been a student at Trinity College, Dublin, where he has begun graduate work. His sister has been in the same city as a member of the famous Abbey Theatre company, fount of the Irish theatre renaissance. Last summer she was with the Shoestring Plays of Tiverton, R. I.

Carl E. Burnham has moved from Pawtucket to Rumford, where his address since Aug. 1 has been 5 Cathin Ave.

1913

The Reverend John Leacher has reported that his new address is 1382 South Sixth St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

1914

Harry J. Rubin, attorney with an office at 29 Weybosset St., Providence, has sent a change of address card giving his home address as 33 Lauriston St., that city.

Phil Jetter reports that he is now Personnel Manager of Lloyds of America, 840 Cooper St., Camden, New Jersey.

A change of address has been recorded by Allan Langley. He now lives at 503 East 11th St., New York City.

Leon Savacool is a District Traffic Superintendent for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company with his business address at 32 Sixth Ave., New York City.

John W. Woodbury, son of our classmate Norris E. Woodbury, was named to the Honor Roll of the Brown Mathematics Department at the end of his first year on the Hill.

1915

Dr. Edgar J. Staff was the radio speaker for the Rhode Island Medical Society Aug. 25, broadcasting a talk on the Rhode Island State laboratory over Station WPRO.

Mr. Guild En Route

FREDERICK T. GUILD '90, Registrar Emeritus of the University, took an extensive trip through the Midwest and far West this summer. He called on alumni in Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. Among those to whom he talked were Chester Cook '91 and Elmer Stevens '04 in Chicago, Edward R. Adams '12 in Los Angeles, Theron Clark '95 who was Mr. Guild's assistant for many years and who is now Registrar at the University of Southern California, Harper Goodspeed '09, and Nathaniel Blaisdell '83 in San Francisco. At Pomona College, Mr. Guild saw Rev. Joseph Taylor '98, H. W. Georgi '95, and B. C. Ewer '99.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Sidney Clifford has been very active as Chairman of the Rhode Island Committee for the Care of European Children. He has opened headquarters at the Community Fund office in Providence and has named a number of sub-committees to assist him with his work. Sidney is working in close collaboration with the National Headquarters for the organization.

Elliot Falk is now at 50 Broadway, New York City and James F. O'Donoghue has moved to 10 Clifton St., Newark, N. J.

Kirk Smith has asked us to tell the class that his residence address is now 103 Alumni Ave., Providence, R. I.

It's Lt. Col. John Lindley Gammell, FA, USA, now, Lin having been promoted to that rank in August. He has been on duty with the 36th FA at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Pierce H. Brereton, former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee in Rhode Island, announced recently that he was "out of politics," thereby setting at rest rumors that he was to be a candidate for the mayoralty in Warwick, a post he had held before taking over the state office for his party.

1916

Charles B. MacKay has been appointed principal of the George J. West Junior High School in Providence it was announced by Superintendent of Schools, Hanley in June.

Paul F. Sinclair, teacher of mathematics in the high school in Trenton, N. J., has asked the Alumni Office to tell his classmates that he now lives at 319 Beechwood Ave., Trenton, N. J.

Professor C. Emanuel Ekstrom was elected president of the Rhode Island Baptist Convention in May, 1940. The Convention held its 115th annual session in the First Baptist Church in Westerly.

1917

William N. Ormsby, member of the Ormsby Roofing Company, Boston, Mass., will again lead the Salvation Army's Roofing and Waterproofing Group in the Greater Boston Annual Maintenance appeal. A press release from the Salvation Army says that Ormsby has for years been interested in Brown football, and "when there is no football, golf is Ormsby's recreation." His home is at 204 Ward St., Newton Centre, Massachusetts.

Dr. Clarence H. Woodmansee went to New York and attended meetings of the American Medical Association last summer.

1918

The class sends its sympathy to Thomas W. Hall, whose father died in September.

Lawrence G. Flick advises your secretary that he is at present a branch manager for International Business Machines, 1610 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo. His home is at 644 Lockwood Court, Webster Groves, Mo.

Earl Cox has moved to 48 Case Ave., Cranston.

W. W. Chaplin was the International News Service's ace man at the Republican and Democratic conventions last summer.

The death of "Ike's" father is noted elsewhere, and the class extends its sympathy.

Walter Adler, president of Rhode Island Camps, Inc., which operates Beach Pond Camp for underprivileged children, reports another successful season with the camp at capacity.

Dog Barks at "Bird"

▶ To Col. G. A. ("Bird") Taylor of Hadley, Mass., Milton Danziger addressed a public letter in his column of "Dog Barks" in the Springfield Daily Republican early last summer. Danziger wrote:

"I was pleased to read in the Brown University alumni magazine that you as a dear old alumnus of 1901 were given proper credit for the winning of the national photographic contest conducted by National Sportsman and Hunting and Fishing with the picture of your English setter, Norwottock Dave Wind 'em, which I understand was named after Dave Fultz, Brown '98, and the editor of the magazine was Oliver Hazard Perry Rodman, class of '26. Funny how you Brown men stick together!"

Norwottock Dave Wind 'em

1919

James A. Peirce, advertising manager of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, reports his present house address to be 99 Hawthorne Ave., Needham, Mass.

Correct addresses for George W. Lewis and Lester T. Lewis are 42 Crescent Road, Port Washington, N. Y., and 558 Newbury St., Boston, respectively.

After having served as teacher and principal in Providence schools for nearly 20 years, Arthur J. Dows resigned last month as principal of Veazie Street grammar school to enter business.

May Courtney P. Young, C.A.C., U.S.A., recently on duty with the R.O.T.C., Mississippi State College, will go to Panama, Canal Zone, in December.

Jim Corey has written that he is an Inspector with the Wage-Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor, 120 Boylston St., Boston, Massachusetts.

H. R. Moulton delivered a paper on Sept. 10 before the American Chemical Society Glass Symposium at the annual meeting of the Society in Detroit. The subject of the paper was "Glass and Its Optical Properties." Moulton is Assistant Director of Research at the American Optical Company in Southbridge, Massachusetts.

1920

Ray W. Greene, Jr., is the new president of the University Glee Club of Providence, in which many a Brown man finds pleasure and self-expression in choral song. The club is quite excited this year over Ray's success in obtaining as conductor Arthur Fiedler, famous conductor of the Boston Symphony "Pops" and other Boston musical organizations.

At the 91st annual meeting of the American Medical Association in New York, Dr. Marshall N. Fulton read a paper titled "Aneurysm of the Ventricle of the Heart" before the Section on Radiology. In less solemn vein was the photograph which Town and Country magazine published in August, showing Marshall and his bride making their getaway after their wedding reception.

Walter Hoving, president of the Associated Alumni, has been named a trustee of the North River Savings Bank, New York.

1921

Ashley Greene is chairman of the Democratic central committee of Multnomah

County, Oregon, a post that he took over last summer after only a year's residence in Portland, where he is practising law. He won because "as a newcomer, he has made no enemies and so can unite all factions of the party into a victorious group in November."

Dr. William J. Nairn is a newly elected director of the New England Osteopathic Association, and is also vice president of the Men's Club of Washington Park, Providence, for the current year.

George L. Reinacher writes that he is President of the A. J. Oliver Company, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Headlines in Providence papers quoted Brayton Eddy last summer as having announced that the Japanese beetle showed no political preference, for it was "attacking property of Democrats and Republicans alike." Brayton, administrator of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Industry for Rhode Island, had charge of the State's fight against the annual infestation and announced that last year's fight was successful, 3,782,818 beetles having been caught in State-supervised traps.

Councilman Olaf G. H. Oden joined several other Providence legislators in opening the first of 30 "Tot Parks" on July 9, 1940. The parks were planned for the use of children during the summer months.

Dr. Eske H. Windsberg was recently certified by the American Board of Surgery, having passed his examinations last June. He was a committee member when the Providence Kiwanis Club held a charity dance to raise funds for its lung clinic in the Homeopathic Hospital.

1922

Mrs. Thomas Corcoran was sponsor at the christening of the S. S. President Monroe at Newport News last August, breaking the champagne bottle over its bow at the launching. Tom was beside her in all the photos.

Rev. F. S. Gallup reports his new address at 55 Hausen Ave., Brooklyn, New York.

Jack Whorf is with the Mutual Insurance Agency, 131 Clarendon St., Boston, Mass. His home is 528 Great Plain Ave., Needham, Mass.

Howard Johnson recently wrote that he has moved to 1516 Spencer Ave., Wilmette, Illinois.

Arthur H. Feiner has been advanced from second to first assistant city solicitor of Providence.

Walter M. Daniels has moved to 68-37 Dartmouth St., Forest Hills, N. Y. Working on the New York Times cable desk, he continues to write a widely syndicated weekly survey of the foreign situation.

1923

The Providence Journal, still following that good New England custom of posting the banns, reported on Aug. 17, 1940, that Jerome L. Fisher had been issued a marriage license.

Rev. Albert Sherberg was a member of a committee in charge of the 60th anniversary celebration of the Sayles Memorial Congregational Church, Saylesville. Robert Carrigan, a classmate, was chairman of the church's Sunday School Anniversary Committee.

Ted Jeffers, well-schooled during his alumni work at Brown, sent us a well printed card to notify us that he had moved to 41 Everett Ave., Providence.

Allen B. Sikes was seen at the New York Brown Club recently. He told us that his work as Eastern manager of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association continues to be as interesting as ever.

Bill Weeden, a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, reported last spring that he was aboard the U. S. S. Tarpon, but that his home address was Pasay, Rizal, Philippine Islands. The card was mailed from Honolulu.

Edward S. Skillings is assistant controller of the Allstate Insurance and the Allstate Fire Insurance Companies in Chicago. His new house address, he writes, is The Oak Crest, 1570 Oak Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Lawrence Lanpher is the new Chief Crier of the Town Criers of Rhode Island, having been elected at the annual meeting in Providence last month. Larry is chairman of the speakers' bureau for the Providence and Cranston Community Fund campaign this month.

Dr. Kalei K. Gregory, assistant superintendent of the Charles V. Chapin Hospital in Providence, attended the New York convention of the American Medical Association.

Herb Van Hoesen has completely recovered from an operation that confined him to the Naval Hospital in Newport for several weeks.

The plays of the late Howard Warren Comstock still see performance these several years after his tragic death. His "Stepping Sisters," a Broadway comedy success, continues a favorite with stock companies and barn theatres, and this summer his play, "No Scandal, Please," adapted by Bert

A Winter of Want

► THERE is more mass and individual suffering today than has ever existed before in the history of the world, according to Dr. Robert C. Dexter '12 of Boston, prominent Unitarian leader and member of the American Committee for Refugee Children. He told of his experiences traveling abroad and working for the committee before the Salem, Mass., Rotary Club last month. In spite of the prospects for starvation and want overseas this winter, he said that America has only a limited sphere for the practice of her generosity there. ◀

He Wants Opposites

► JIMMY JEMAIL '18 is the master of ceremonies of a new radio program devoted to the proposition, "Find Your Opposite." For several years Jemail has been the Inquiring Reporter on the New York Daily News, and this experience is to be put to good use on his new program. He is no stranger to radio.

His contestants this winter will be quizzed on opposites in music, and Jemail will also interview "human opposites." The former Brown athlete has also been making a movie short based on his Inquiring Reporter experiences. Jemail played Brown football and baseball in 1914, 1915, and 1916 as well as one season after the World War, in 1919. ◀

Hughes was presented by the Shoe String Players of Tiverton, one of the many New England resort troupes.

Prof. Herbert M. Hafford of R. I. State College attended the U. S. Army manoeuvres in northern New York last summer, having been assigned as a special observer of military intelligence operations. He was to prepare a report on public relations activities of the Army for Maj. Alexander R. Bolling, chief of the military intelligence division of the First Corps Area.

Dr. Daniel V. Troppoli is a member of the membership committee of the Providence Medical Association.

The class's sympathy is sincerely extended to John A. O'Neill, Pawtucket city solicitor, whose mother died suddenly while on a visit to his summer home on Block Island last summer.

1924

Frank O. Hough's new novel, "The Neutral Ground," has been postponed from October publication by Carrick & Evans until early next year. It is a story of the American Revolution, about which he has already written two excellent novels, "Renown," and "If Not Victory."

Dr. George Saute, after a summer in California, has resumed his duties as Assistant Professor of Mathematics at Cleveland College, Cleveland, O.

James H. Barrett is a member of the law firm of Barrett & Beaudrig, 8 Church St., White Plains, N. Y.

Alumni Office records show new addresses as follows: Robert Cowing, 2833 Wigtown Rd., Los Angeles. . . Roger D. Harvey, 234 Windemere St., Bridgeport, Conn. . . Ivan Half, Apartment No. 201, 5920 Walnut St., Pittsburgh. . . Ralph H. Illingworth, East St., Middleton, Mass. . . W. H. Schofield, 269 Burns St., Forest Hills, N. Y. . . Roger P. Behan, 651 Illinois Rd., Wilmette, Ill.

1925

A card from Roger Cummings indicates that he is in the Department of Religion, Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kansas, instead of at Berkeley, California.

Leonard Vollbracht is a salesman with Goodyear and lives at 16240 Cherrylawn Ave., Detroit.

Harold Pearson is assistant superintendent of United Engineers and Constructors, Burlington, New Jersey, but lives at 200 Oakford Ave., Delanco, New Jersey.

The class extends its sympathy to Ralph Petrucci whose father passed away.

Ralph Brown is Vice-President of the Delphian Society, 307 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, but he is a suburbanite, living in Wilmette, Ill.

Walter Bishop's new business address is 595 Madison Ave., New York.

Irving Levy has moved his New York headquarters to 1130 Park Ave.

Gordon A. Smith is real estate management supervisor for the East River Savings Bank in downtown New York, 26 Cortlandt St.

Dave Ballou sells for the Franklin Process Company, in Providence and lives on R. F. D. No. 2, East Greenwich.

Bill Ballou, an assistant secretary of the Bank of New York, lives at 538 E. 83rd St., New York.

John Langdon was one of several Providence doctors who have incorporated a farm at Freedom, New Hampshire to be conducted as a children's health camp; it will be called Cragged Mountain Farm.

Benjamin Winicour, Providence lawyer, has become Superintendent of Liquor Sales Inspection for the State of Rhode Island, following a successful civil service examination. The work involves prosecution for the State Liquor Control Board. After graduation from Boston University Law School in 1926 and his passing of the Rhode Island bar exams in 1928, Winicour spent seven years practising law in his own office and then was associated in a credit capacity with a Providence furniture house.

1926

John H. Hargrove dropped a brief note to tell us that he has moved to 105-22-63rd Ave., Forest Hills, New York, and Al Grenow has moved to 19 Neponset Rd., Merrymount, Quincy, Mass.

Kent Godfrey, in radio advertising with Furgason & Walker, lives at 404 East 51st St., New York.

Leon A. Fowler's new home is at 231 1/2 Orchard St., Danbury, Conn.

Leighton Rollins, a pioneer in the summer theatre movement, has continued to fulfill speaking engagements before clubs and dramatic societies. He is director of the Rollins Studio at 106 E. 52nd St., New York City.

George Viault dropped a card recently to say that his correct address is Gaithersburg, Maryland.

Howard G. Lewis, assistant principal of the Nathan Bishop Junior High School in Providence, was a great faculty member at the University of St. Lawrence, Canton, New York, from July 1 through Aug. 10. Lewis taught courses in principles and organization of guidance in secondary school, interpretation of personnel records and guidance for homeroom and classroom teacher.

Bradley Sage, young son of Louis Sage got his picture in The Providence Journal and pop made some space as the newspaper told how Brownman Sage was building a sailboat. Dr. Sage has been sailing a dinghy but found that a larger boat would provide more room to stretch the sea legs and Young Sage was helping his dad with the craft, an 18-footer with a seven-foot beam. A newcomer to the boat building scene, Sage drew his own plans and vowed to drive every peg himself; the boat should be in the water at Wickford in spring of 1941.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Bill Widnall has moved his law office to 15 Main St., Hackensack, N. J., and has a new home on West Saddle River Rd., Saddle River, N. J.

Elmer Duggan, one of the pitching heroes of the famous 20-inning baseball game between Brown and Providence College in 1924, had a reunion last summer with Charley Reynolds, who had opposed him on that great occasion. Duggan is living in Pawtucket.

1927

Carlton S. Stallard wrote that he is Secretary-Treasurer of the Jersey Mortgage Company at 280 North Broad St., Elizabeth, N. J.

Bill Dennis wrote the Alumni Office recently that he is still with Salisbury, Robinson & Himrod in Los Angeles. Bill's home is at 252 South Clark Drive, Beverly Hills, California.

Art Tebbutt, who has been assistant professor of economics at the University and director of the Bureau of Business Research, has been appointed to the faculty at Northwestern University.

Ernest Clough, secretary of the Boston Brown Club reports that Charles J. Brown has a new home address: 45 Hinckley Rd., Waban, Mass.

John C. Henry, White House man for the Washington Star, was sent to Chicago to cover the Democratic National Convention.

1928

Byron S. Hollinshead had the leading article on Good Housekeeping magazine's educational page last summer with an exposition of the philosophy and achievements of the Junior Colleges. He is president of the national association of Junior Colleges, in addition to his post as president of Scranton-Keystone Junior College at LaPlume, Pa.

Drs. Jesse P. Eddy, 3rd, and Seebert J. Goldowsky were among the Providence doctors who attended the New York meetings of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Leo V. Hand of Boston was the author of an appreciation of Dr. Frank H. Lahey, president-elect of the American Medical Society, which appeared in Medical News for July.

Joseph L. Strauss, Jr., keeps busy as treasurer of Hillison & Etten Co., advertising printers, with which he has been associated since leaving Brown. Joe's office is at 638 Federal St., and his house at 1031 Hyde Park Blvd., Chicago.

Dr. Albert Y. Kevorkian has an extensive private practise as a physician, with his office at 1101 Beacon St., Boston. His house address is 47 Crehore Rd., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Myron (Tut) Ruckstull has begun another season as athletic coach at Poly Prep Country Day School, Dyker Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Harvey J. Ollsen is an associate financial examiner with the Securities & Exchange Commission, Washington. Harvey and Mrs. Ollsen and their daughter, Marilyn Louise (she will be six months old this month) live at 5800 16th St., North, Arlington, Va.

Ralph J. Hardy is on the sales staff of Coca Cola, with his office at 95 Pleasant Valley Parkway and his home at 53 Dartmouth Ave., Providence.

George E. Spofford, Jr., is agent of the Androscoggin Mill, Lewiston, Me.

The Refugees Have Left

► "At this time everything seems fairly quiet in this part of the Far East," wrote Capt. Charles H. Morhouse '25, M. C., from Nichols Field, Rizal, Philippine Island, in August. "We have just gotten rid of 3000 English refugees from Hongkong whom the Army has been caring for. Consequently the war does not seem as close to us as it did."

Capt. Morhouse took a list of Brown alumni in the Far East with him when he went to the islands this summer from Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y. So far he has seen Ralph DeL. Standish '21 and Capt. Clair McK. Conzelman '21. "It certainly seems good to get each issue of the MONTHLY," he adds.

Thomas J. Paolino, active Willkie supporter, is a member of the campaign advisory committee of the Republican National Committee.

1929

Nathaniel S. Keith is on the reportorial staff of PM, the New York daily that carries no advertising and tries in many other ways to be different from its fellow newspapers. PM's office is at 147 West 42nd St.

Ray Henry has joined the engineering staff of General Fire Extinguisher Co., after having been office manager of General Tire Service, Inc., Providence, for several years.

Stephen Crilly is practising law at 69 West Washington St., Chicago, with the firm of Concannon, Dillon, Bostelman & Snook. Steve lives at 1350 Jarvis Ave.

Everett Eynon, lately of Puerto Rico, Washington, and parts, is back in Providence again, working at the Industrial Trust Co., and living at 26 Paterson St.

Rev. Winthrop H. Richardson, former pastor of Ward Hill Church, Haverhill, Mass., on Sept. 1 began the pastorate of the Winslow Congregational Church, Taunton. His home address is now 16 Couch St., Taunton.

After listening to Tuss McLaughry's College All-Stars beating the New York Giants, Louis Farber wrote the Providence Journal apropos of the game, "one of the greatest football upsets of all time." His letter to the editor was a tribute to his former mentor. "We have the greatest coach in the country, proven to be so by the All-Star game, and by individual seasons, when he had only average material, never great," McLaughry, he said, has had to "break his heart on the type of squad which has always been given Brown coaches, not only McLaughry, but Robinson and others farther back." Lou, who is coaching the East Providence High School team again this year, was in New York for the Herald Tribune coaching school in August.

1930

BY HAROLD P. CARVER
75 Federal St., Boston

Reunion has come and gone and has brought many pleasant memories and refreshed viewpoints. I find in my widespread correspondence that many things have happened, and some of the items that I checked go as follows:

F. K. Daggette, Jr., better known as "Ted," is a member of the power squadron down in Hartford and is busy cleaning up all its problems. He reports that the sail in Falmouth was excellent.

Joseph O. Clark, Jr., the original "monkey specialist," is now at 202 Esperson Building, Houston, Texas, and is busy helping out the oil business. Those of us who remember the boy, know that he started out early in college to become proficient at this game.

Jack Laadt reports that he is now a full-fledged medico serving at the Evanston Hospital in Evanston, Ill., but will be at the Passavant Memorial Hospital, Chicago, after January 1, 1941.

Warren "Rabbit" Leonard is busy teaching young folks at Putney Academy, Putney, Vermont, and in spite of its being tucked away up in the Green Mountains, it is a progressive school and has made a name for itself in the area for its excellent quality of teaching and fine physical background.

George MacGregor reports that he took in the American Bankers School at Rutgers this spring and actually learned something about the banking business. I feel, however, that the Savings Bank has given him a liberal education to date and that this is merely a post-graduate course.

Phil Lingham could not attend Reunion because of an addition to the family June sixth answering to the name of Jean Bancroft Lingham; she is the second addition to the family.

Rumors have it that Harry Settle had an addition at the same time. Please confirm.

Byron K. "Spike" Hartman, who has been missing for many years now, comes to life at the Link-Belt Company, 300 West Pershing Road, Chicago. He lived at Phi Delta Theta and would like to hear from any of his friends. He has been out of touch with the University for too long.

Tad Bullock shouts down from Mechanicville, New York, that he had a swell time at the World's Fair and a grand time at reunion. He still craves to build a boat fast enough to win the Lipton Cup Races. Tad reports in his letter that Gordon Baxter, who is now at River St., Troy, lost his father shortly after reunion.

Dick Von Dannenburg reporting on himself, states that he has been busy working with his father in Von Dannenburg & Company in New York. He says that he is unmarried.

Ralph Purinton is reported to be Regional Manager of the Shell Oil Company in Peekskill and according to Dick Von Dannenburg is plump and prosperous.

Roy Greenleese popped up again after hiding for some time and states that he is Territory Manager for the Johnson Bronze Company, 710 North 17th St., Philadelphia. He reports that he is married and that he has two boys to help maintain the Greenleese prestige. He admits that he is a fair golfer and is still hoping to improve.

15,000 Feet Lower

► FRED M. CHACE '29 is back in the States after working at 15,000 feet in the Andes for 18 months at Morocoba, Peru. "Believe me," he writes, "it is good to be back at sea level and feel normal once more." Previously he had been in Australia at the Bendigo Mines. He wrote from Colon, Panama, that his mailing address was going to be 656 South Oak Knoll Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

Moe Hendel is now associated with Conrad K. Strauss in law practice in the city of Providence. He served as President of the Touro Fraternal Association and is now President of the Providence Zionist District.

Murray Abrams, according to Moe, has resigned his position with the Unemployment Compensation Bureau and is now practicing law in Providence. He is engaged to Miss Muriel Rosenberg of Havana, Cuba, but no date has been set for the wedding as yet.

Bob McGinley reports his new address as 55 Brownell St., Worcester, Mass. He is circulation Supervisor for the Worcester Telegram and Gazette Publishing Company.

Herman O. Werner, Jr., is Assistant Professor of English at Washington College, Chestertown, Md. For the past three years he has been on the Faculty of Bethany College, West Virginia.

Wilbur A. Bromage, financial reporter on the staff of the Providence Journal, is living at 28 Dalton St., Rumford.

Harold S. Prescott is an engineer with the U. S. Engineers Office, Fortification Division, on duty in Little Compton, R. I.

1931

Richard P. Breaden is a librarian at the University of Michigan Library, Ann Arbor, where he lives at 515 South 4th Ave.

Jay F. Chrast, head of the History Department at Emerson High School, Union City, N. J., has received his A.M. degree from New Jersey State Teachers College, Montclair, from which he was graduated last June. He has been specializing in administration and supervision, and in addition to heading the History Department is Faculty advisor of athletics at Emerson High.

Daniel Rhee, assignor to Carr Mfg. Co., Bristol, has had granted a patent for a method of making cut rubber thread. He applied for the patent in July, 1937.

E. Kent Allen reports that he is still on the job with the Abbot Worsted Co., Granville, Mass., and that he is getting his mail at Westford, Mass.

David G. Browning is proprietor of Radio Engineering Laboratories at 1814 Alameda St., Corpus Christi, Texas.

Edward V. Osberg is associate editor of India Rubber World, with his office at 420 Lexington Ave., New York City, and his home at 144-35 Northern Blvd., Flushing, N. Y.

Arthur Novogroski and Mrs. Novogroski are occupying the house at 43 Colonial Rd., Providence, which they recently bought and modernized to satisfy their ideas of a permanent home.

Dick Walsh has moved to 222 West 23rd St., New York City.

Leo Horvitz is now at 1813 West Main St., Houston, Texas.

William G. Schofield has joined the city staff of the Boston Traveler as a rewrite man, leaving the Providence Journal in mid-September. Bill has a story scheduled for publication in Redbook magazine in the near future.

Bernard V. Buonanno, again coaching the Providence Classical High football team, had a pre-season training camp down on Cape Cod, where a few other Brown men showed up to lend a hand with his squad. Among them were brother Joe Buonanno '34, Brown Freshman backfield coach, and "Cap" Capasso '33, now at Hope Street High. Other visitors to Camp Burgess in-

FUN FOR ALL and all for fun.
That's the slogan for Alumni Day,
1940, of which James L. Whitcomb is committee chairman.

cluded Principal Charles E. Paine '98 and Providence School Committeeman Louis Capasso '24.

Vincent McKivergan, last year head counselor at the Roger Williams Junior High School in Providence, has had a promotion that now places him as head of the Social Studies Department at Central High School.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of Paul Osmun, please advise the Alumni Office.

Don Clayton sailed from San Francisco late in August for Honolulu. He has been appointed an exchange teacher of economics and will be in Honolulu for a year.

Waldo H. Fish, Jr., has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain in the 103rd Field Artillery.

Wescott E. S. Moulton has started on his 10th season as football coach at Pomfret School. "Wacky" is head football coach, athletic director and baseball coach, a routine of duties that keeps him busy through the entire year. He was a visitor to the Brown football practice early in the fall.

1932

Robert Johnson of Staten Island, New York, has announced his candidacy for the State Senatorship from Richmond County. Johnson, a lawyer is running on the Republican ticket. Bob was successful in the Primaries and the campaign is now in full sway.

According to a card from the Alumni Secretary of Rollins College, Richard Bushnell is the proprietor of a golf and skiing club in Goshen, Conn.

H. A. Campbell spent the summer at Pondville Hospital, Wrentham, Mass., but tells us that mail addressed to 17 George St., Central Falls, R. I. always reaches him.

Fred Bailey, whose marriage is reported elsewhere, is with S. L. Bird & Sons of Detroit.

Richard A. Ogden is a junior executive with the Permutt Co., 330 West 42nd St.,

New York City, and is living at 18 Kempster Rd., Scarsdale, N. Y.

A. Richmond Peirce, Jr., is teaching English at Horace Mann School for Boys, New York City, of which Dr. Charles C. Tillinghast '06 is principal. Dick spent the summer at South Swansea, Mass.

William B. Roberts, 3rd, is with the U. S. Department of the Interior in Washington, where he is living at 3051 Idaho Ave., N. W.

Harry F. Dunkerton is working for DeCoppet & Doremus, brokers, at 42 Broadway, New York City. His preferred mail address, Harry says, is 38-24 220th St., Bayside, N. Y.

Alan R. Pearsall reports a change of house address to 9 Morgan Place, Arlington, N. J.

Frederic E. Bailey is a buyer in the Walk Over Shoe Department of S. L. Bird & Sons store in Detroit, Mich.

John O. Sprowl, Jr. is with the May Company, department store, Cleveland, and lives at 12960 Euclid Ave., East Cleveland.

1933

Earle M. Harvey is a product designer with J. Stevens Arms Co., a division of the Savage Arms Corporation, in Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Rev. A. George Reinel is the new pastor of the First Baptist Church, Milford, N. H., to which he went from the Federated Church at Sandwich Center. He was ordained in 1934 at the First Baptist Church, Fall River, Mass., where Rev. Dr. Albert E. Thomas '08 is minister.

Walter L. Meima is working for the Electromotive Corporation in Brookfield, Ill., but wants his mail sent to his home at 60 Superior St., Oak Park, Ill.

Dr. Carl Pfaffmann has been appointed an instructor in the Department of Psychology in the University.

Joe Thompson is with the Babcock & Wilcox Tube Company, Chicago.

A. C. Matteson, Jr., has moved to 466 Fairview Ave., Westwood, N. J.

William Gray has moved to 5955 Clemens St., St. Louis.

John F. Sheasby has moved to 945 Sheridan Rd., Evanston, Ill.

John Runyun recently left Bronxville, N. Y. to live in Des Moines, Iowa. He is with the Continental Baking Company.

Frank Lutz is Personnel Manager of the Millville Manufacturing Company, Millville, N. J. He was in Providence recently to interview Chemistry Department seniors according to that department's May bulletin.

The class extends its sympathy to John A. Battle whose mother passed away this summer.

1934

Fred Haas, Jr., is the new credit and office manager of General Tire Service, Inc., 78 Broadway, Providence. Fred has been in the Trust Department, Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., for the past three years.

James P. Patton is one of the new councillors of the Providence Engineering Society, having been elected for a three-year term.

John M. Sayward has just completed five years with the Calco Chemical Division of American Cyanamid Co., at present being attached to the research department's physical chemistry section where he has been doing work related to therapeutic chemicals.

Two Plays (or More) Are the Thing

▶▶ "BEING in summer stock might be all right, except for the poison ivy, but being in two summer stocks at the same time — to say nothing of a heat wave — must make Anthony Ross (Brown, 1932) fall into a deep muse sometimes." What prompted the Providence Sunday Journal drama column to this speculation was the fact that Ross was playing at the Newport Casino Civic Theatre in "Not in Our Stars" the same week that he was rehearsing in Matunuck, more than across the bay, in "Outward Bound." The previous week, while rehearsing in Newport for his show there, he was playing opposite Ina Claire in "Biography" at Matunuck.

Toying with the idea of having Ross work with three stock companies in a single week, the Journal man said: "A lot of summer stocks ought to be able to use a good man, Sock and Buskin, Brown 1932, eight years stage experience on Broadway, worked with Maurice Evans on the Coast last season in "Richard II" and with Mary Martin in "Nice Going."

The Brown Historical Catalogue lists no Anthony Ross '32. But Sock and Buskin audiences will remember a competent undergraduate named Meyer Rosenthal. He's the able, indefatigable player of our story. ◀◀ such as sulfamidamide. He still commutes to work on a bike, as do a number of chemists but few other employees, and manages some long-distance cycling in the summer. Tennis, hiking, and skiing are other sports which help keep him in trim.

Dick Hapgood, whose engagement was recently announced, is proprietor of the Sunoco gas station on Atlantic Ave., Marblehead, Mass.

1935

The members of the class will be interested to know about the election held during class reunion this last June. All class matters will be in the hands of an executive committee. The chairman is Ross De Matteo and the members of the committee are: Bill Broomhead, Henry Hart, Al Joslin, John Considine, and Stanley Henshaw.

1936

Ralph Wagner is a supervising auditor and contract adjuster with the General Electric Contract Corporation, 1505 Marsonic Temple, New Orleans.

John C. Myer who has been an intern at the Homeopathic Hospital in Providence is now in North Berwick, Me. John graduated from the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia in June 1939, is married and the father of two daughters, Nancy and Priscilla.

Fred Van Stone's new address is 54 Depot St., Sharon, Mass.

Bud Gifford, continually active in Brown alumni affairs, has taken on another alumni activity. He has been elected Secretary of the Alumni Association of Peekskill Military Academy, where last June he participated in the Commencement exercises and awarded a prize to the outstanding Senior.

Classmates will be glad to know that Billy Dear has sharpened up his golf clubs and has been capturing links trophies right and left. On Sept. 3 the New York Times said that Bill had "earned the right to have his name engraved on the magnificent Arcola Trophy when he won the 36-hole final of the 22nd annual invitation golf tournament" at Arcola, N. J. The newspaper called him "the long hitter from Essex County." Emblazoning their articles with pictures, New York papers heralded another Dear victory on Sept. 15. With Maureen Orcutt as his partner, the Brown graduate won the annual alternate-shot mixed foursome golf tournament for the Mrs. W. G. Loew Challenge Cup at the Women's National Golf at Tennis Club, Glen Head, Long Island, 3 and 2. John E. Parker, Jr., was his partner when he won the New Jersey State football championship after taking the qualifying medal.

Harrie Hart was on the campus last June for the national convention of Psi Upsilon. Harrie is now in Hartford, Connecticut, with Socony Vacuum.

Leon Payne, graduate of the University of Texas Law School, is with Kelly Campbell, Kurth, and Andrews, Houston law firm.

Frank J. Watson, Jr., now living at 401 Baird Rd., Merion, Pennsylvania, is in the Investment section of the Girard Trust Company.

Members of the class have gypsy tendencies according to the Alumni Office. New addresses include: Charles Summerfield, 2431 Greenleaf Ave., Chicago. . . . William B. Clayton, Jr., 3625 16th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. . . . Harry N. Payne, 529 Fifth Ave., New York. . . . Paul G. Nelson, 1 French St., Cohasset, Mass. . . . Alden J. Plumley, University of Nevada, Reno. . . . John W. Hunt, 1728-N-N. W., Washington, D. C. . . . Philip J. Lappin, 37 Fletcher St., Central Falls. . . . Donald O. Starrett, 40-35 67th St., Woodside, L. I., New York. . . . Robert J. Gannon, 79 N. Colony St., Wallingford, Conn. . . . Philip Bronsiegel, 59 Plymouth St., New Bedford, Mass. . . . Andrew Jack, 851 Wethersfield Ave., Hartford, Conn.

Wally Capron writes that his boat, "The Four Brothers," has been packed with Brown men all summer. He says that a recent seaman's holiday was taken by Bob Harding, who had just finished four years' duty with the Marine Corps. Other sailors have been Jim Foran '33, and Doug Widnall '37.

Jack Despres was recently made a member of a five-man Advisory Council for the Blind by Governor Vanderbilt of Rhode Island. The Providence Journal noted that Jack "had been active in promoting improved treatment for blind persons in this State."

Bob Wilkens got his law degree from Yale in 1939 and is now with Baer & Marks, 20 Exchange Place, New York.

Earl "Whitney" Easton was stricken with appendicitis late in July while home in Providence on a vacation. Whitney staged a quick recovery and six weeks later carded his usual fine golf score in an 18-hole match at the R. I. Country Club.

Gardner Wheeler has returned to Providence as a representative of the General Electric Company.

Albert Tabor is the new assistant secretary and treasurer of the national Phi Beta Kappa organization. He has been with Brown, Lisle and Marshall, Providence investment brokers.

1937

Doug Widnall and Don Jumper '36 are with the Bendix Aviation Corporation, Bendix, N. J. Don is in the Purchasing Department and Doug is in the Planning and Production Department of the Pioneer Instrument Division.

Bob and Freeman Love were ushers at their brother Hamilton's wedding on July 18, 1940. Hamilton played football for Yale while the twins were in Brown uniforms.

Bill Tyrrell's address as last reported is 507 Sixth Ave., Belmar, N. J.

Linton Fluck, Jr., is a textile chemist with the American Cyanamid Co., 1937 West Main St., Stamford, Conn. He lives at 58 Fairfield Ave., So. Norwalk, Conn.

Don Clark reports that he is an actuarial student with the Equitable Life Insurance Co., 393 Seventh Ave., New York City.

Edward M. Fearnley wrote in red ink that "I work for myself and this is the kind of ink I use most." His address is Veterans Administration Facility, Marion, Ind.

Bill Eckert is a night supervisor and announcer for WBBM, Columbia Broadcasting System, 410 No. Michigan Ave., Chicago. His professional name (Chicago Brown men should listen) is Bill Seymour.

Bill Hulbert reports that he has joined Fish, Richardson & Neave, 84 State St., Boston.

Dick Shaw wrote during the summer that he and his wife, Ruth, expect to see a lot of the U. S. in the next year. Dick is a salesman for Becton, Dickinson & Company, manufacturers of medical and hospital supplies, Rutherford, N. J. He may be reached through the Company.

Joe Frucht is now a full-fledged executive with R. H. Macy, New York. Joe's home address is 310 E. 44th St., New York. Fred Forbes writes that Joe is looking out for Brown's interests, having assisted in decorating a section of the College shop with Brown banners and the University colors.

A card from Grant Geyer states that he has moved to 1240 Washington Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Al Brown, Jr., is following the family tradition and has entered the legal profession. He passed the Connecticut Bar Exams in July and has joined the firm of Alcorn, Alcorn & Blakewell, Hartford. Al's

Looked "Even" to Him

▶ GRINNING over his typewriter in a picture in the Sept. 10 issue of Look Magazine, Warren B. Francis '29, was quoted as giving the G. O. P. an "even chance" in the coming presidential race.

Asked to give his views with 13 other topflight Washington correspondents, Francis, a representative of the Los Angeles Times, said, "Considering the wide chasms in the Democratic party, Republican prospects certainly are improved. The colorfully unorthodox campaign Wilkie will put on is sure to dramatize the third term issue. He seems to have the ability to force Roosevelt on the defensive — a distinct advantage to the Republicans generally. Right now I believe the Republicans have an even chance to grab the presidency. Much depends on the number of disgruntled Democrats."

father, of the class of 1905, is now an associate justice of the State Supreme Court of Errors. His grandfather, Judge Lucius Brown '66, was a member of the bar until his death in 1925. During the summer Al worked at Lake of the Clouds, an Appalachian Mountain Club Hut on Mt. Washington.

H. A. Harrington is now at 614 West Hill Ave., Knoxville, Tenn.

Bill Morrison has become a member of the Plainfield, N. J., Fire Department and may be found at Fire Headquarters in Plainfield.

William F. (Wimpy) Donovan is carving a shipbuilding career with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation on Staten Island. He has been dubbed "Star of Bethlehem."

1938

BY JAMES W. GURLL, JR.

University Hall, Brown University

The editors of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY, embarking on a new policy of having class representatives write some of the class notes, have asked me to tell of the doings and whereabouts of the men of '38. Here goes:

Got an invite to Paul Welch's wedding reception (Ruth Chace—Oct. 5—Prov.) the other day. Mike Zifcak (Millbury Woolen Co., Millbury, Mass.) was checking up on his roomie, Pat Patterson last weekend in Boston where Pat was vacationing with his bride (Betty Carlson) of not quite a year. Mike has been managing and coaching a girl's softball team . . . some fun. Pat is with Montgomery Ward in Newport News, Va. Johnnie Priest (Harvard Law School) has spent the summer in Providence, part of the time as an apprentice in a law firm down town and the rest of the time on campus with . . . guess who.

Saw Prexy, Frankie Foster, in Binghamton, New York, a few weeks ago. We spent a few days with him and his bride (Audrey Easton) of five months. Frank is definitely going places as a salesman with Johnson & Johnson. A few days before, we called on Don Christie at Manchester, N. H., where Don was playing tennis until his teaching duties begin this fall at the Burr & Burton Seminary. By the way, I married Miss Alice Calder August 10—thus the "we" attitude. Bill O'Donnell, clamoring for more information about the rest of us, writes to say that he is in the windy city as salesman for the Liberty Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Ed East is now on the professional staff of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School for Boys, White Hill, Pa., after being at the U. S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa. (official capacity, of course). Ed Galway reports that he receives his mail at 2009 University Drive, Durham, North Carolina. Ed received his M.A. in Child Guidance from Columbia and immediately thereafter was appointed Child Probation Officer for the Juvenile Court of Durham.

This seems like a good time to let you fellows know of some new addresses: John Cahalan, 1850 Broadway, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Johnnie is a sales engineer for General Electric. Fred Allen, 136 Woodside Village, Stamford, Conn. Ed Heintz, 923 Forest Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich. Don Lavine, 50 East 24th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Don is in insurance with the Royal Livermore group. Don's marriage to Sally Birney took place Saturday, Sept. 21, in Bridgeport. Store Manager Frank Sieverman, 741 Parkway Rd., Jackson, Mich. Ed Barber, 144 Castle Shannon Rd., Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, Pa. Architectural student, Davis Allen, Box 23, River Bend Rd., St. Charles, Ill. Connecticut Valley Brown Clob's secretary Herbert Dalton, 203 Western Ave., Westfield, Mass. Pratt Richard, 245 West 25th St., New York City. Herbert Kauke, 641 So. Queen St., Lancaster, Pa. is working as an insurance agent for the Home Life Insurance Company.

Dave Borkhart will be studying again at Brown this year . . . for his Masters in Education. He also resumes teaching at Providence Country Day School. Jack Montgomery is studying to be a special agent for the Travelers Fire Insurance Co. His new address is to be Soo Line Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. Ezra Hersey came in the Alumni Office the other day to tell us of his plans to enter the air training course at Curtiss Airport, Air Corps Training Attachment, Glenview, Ill.

George Henderson is playing an important role in the new Brown Photographic Laboratory which is housed in the old Infirmary building at 10 Manning St. Photographs taken by George will be seen soon in an elaborate University publication. Ken Foote stopped in the other day on his way up to Boston from the Cape. He will continue his study for the ministry this year at the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, Newton, Mass.

More new addresses for you to write on your envelopes. Paul Wilson, 1013 Overbrook Rd., Wilmington, Del. Bob Richard, Box 36, South Coventry, Conn. Don Hawkins, Sedgewick, Maine. Mal Dearden, 244 Woodbine Ave., Syracuse, N. Y. Frank Shaw, 582 Central St., Franklin, N. E. Perry Graffam, 21 South Highland St., West Hartford, Conn. Perry is an engineer with Pratt Whitney. Bill Chichester, 320 No. Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. Bill Garvey, 3100 Sheridan Rd., Chicago. Bill G. receives his pay check from the Commonwealth Edison Co.

Rog Francis, now with the New York Public Library, will have good company this year. I understand Dean Rand's former secretary will be employed in the big city. This Spring Chick Gaffney's Cheboygan Boys' Club boys' exhibits won many blue ribbons at the National Boys' Club Convention held in Boston. Chick's work, as director of the Boys' Club, has received high praise. Word has recently come that genial Fred A. Forbes, Executive Secretary of the Brown Club in New York, has been proposed for membership in the Newcomen Society of England. Fred is a lineal descendant of John Alden, a member of the Mayflower Company, and of David Allen who was Deputy Governor of the Plymouth Company. Burt Titus can, I believe, boast of being the first '38er to be the proud father of twins (Sept. 7, 1940) . . . a boy and a girl. Mrs. Titus was formerly Miss Johanna Bentz. The Titus' are living at 32 Joralemon St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Information about classmates which we receive from you here on the hill will reach you through this medium. Let's hear from YOU and about YOU.

BROWN

BILTMORE

THE ALUMNI SUITE

PROVIDENCE-BILTMORE HOTEL

This popular club lounge is for the use of alumni, members of their families and guests. Special courtesies are extended by the hotel, and food and beverage service to the suite is at regular restaurant and bar prices. Identification cards may be obtained and special events may be arranged by calling or writing the Alumni Office, Brown University.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Brown Alumni Monthly

Published at Brown University by the Associated Alumni

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON '23

Managing Editor

ARTHUR BRAITSCH '23

Business Manager

HENRY S. CHAFFEE '09

ALFRED H. GURNEY '07

JAMES L. WHITCOMB '36

GERTRUDE ALLEN MCCONNELL
Pembroke Correspondent

Subscriptions, $2 a year. Single copies, 25 cents.
There is no issue during August or September.

Entered at the Providence Post Office as second-class matter

Vol. XLI OCTOBER, 1940 No. 3

1939

Grant B. Bursley, a member of the 243rd Regiment, Coast Artillery, is in training at Fort Adams, R. I., with his outfit. The 243rd, the nation's crack coast artillery unit, was among the first National Guard regiments to be mobilized.

Tom Carey, varsity centre a couple of years ago, has joined the faculty of East Greenwich Academy and will be in complete charge of the athletic program this year. In 1939 Carey handled the football team, but he will take on basketball and baseball in addition.

Robert B. Clark reports his change of address to 5488 Northumberland Street, Pittsburgh, Penn., and Herbert Kemp has moved to 3123 Bellwood Ave., Cincinnati.

F. S. Miller, Jr. has moved to 1121 Park Wood Blvd., Schenectady.

David Brown is now in Olean, N. Y. at 224 North First St.

The class extends its sympathy to Frank Paine whose father died this summer.

Roger A. Savery is a Field Representative for General Motors Acceptance Corporation with headquarters at 76 Westminster St., Providence.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of the following members of the class, please advise the Alumni Office: Robert L. McCracken, Stuart Alexander Gray, Carl Dennis Soresi, E. Robert Pape, Vincent A. Devaney.

Theodore A. Morde of New Bedford is back from the wilds of Honduras where he led the Third Honduran Expedition under the auspices of the Museum of the American Indian.

1940

For the first issue of our most recent class notes the Alumni Office is glad to include several items that it has on hand. The director of Alumni Relations, however, is endeavoring to establish a new system whereby each class will appoint a man to write the class notes, a system which should prove effective since a class secretary or other officer is likely to know more about his class matters than the Alumni Office. News (use a penny post card) can be sent to the Alumni Office. It will then be sent to the representative of the class who will write his own notes.

Seymour S. Berkman is an editorial assistant with the Atlas Publishing Company at 133 West 21st Street, New York City.

Sam Anderson has joined Montgomery Ward in the Long Island store.

Robert L. Joslin is now a trainee with the American Aniline Products Co. in New York City.

Stan Cummings' book, an as yet unnamed series of vignettes of New England village life, has attracted the attention of Knopf, New York publisher, who first came to know Cummings' work last winter during a contest for young novelists.

Robert J. Fontes has entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University.

ENGAGEMENTS

▶ ▶ MISS GRETCHEN THOMPSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Thompson of Brookline and Duxbury, Mass., to Joseph P. Marto '22 of Boston.

Miss Dorothy C. Nuttall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nuttall of Edgewood, to Charles K. Baker, Jr., '26 of Cranston. Miss Marjorie Wood, daughter of Mrs. Warren K. Wood of Pelham Manor, N. Y., to John F. Lambden, Jr., '29 of New Rochelle, N. Y. Miss Wood attended Bryn Mawr College.

Miss Loretta Dee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dee of Lynn, Mass., to Hugh S. Butler '32 of New York City. Miss Dee, who attended Rosemont, Pa., College, is a well known golfer. Her brother is William J. Dee '26.

Miss Corrella Tinkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Tinkham of West Barrington, to Professor Chester H. Page '34 of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.

Miss Eleanor Glover Courtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Courtis of Marblehead, Mass., to Richard K. Hapgood '34, son of Ernest G. Hapgood '01 and Mrs. Hapgood of Newton Highlands, Mass.

Miss Dorothy Agnes Gordon, daughter of Mrs. James Murray Gordon of Hartford, Conn., to Richard S. Shaw '35 of Barrington.

Miss Hazel Winifred McKinstry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. McKinstry of Webster, Mass., to LeRoy H. Clem '35 of Cranston.

Jumping from D to A

▶ LOU SIGLOCH's work as catcher for the Oil City team of the Penn State League last summer after graduation was so satisfactory that the Pittsburgh Pirates will ship him next summer to Albany in the Eastern League. That's a jump from a Class D circuit to a Class A on in a single year of professional baseball. The Pirates, parent club of the Oil City Oilers, may have also been impressed by the part Lou played when the minor leaguers defeated the Pirates 4-3 in an exhibition game. He got a hit, drove in a run and scored a run, also performing well as receiver.

Lou's father continues the ardent fan that he was when he journeyed 1500 miles in order to see all the Brown games last spring. At Commencement time Mr. Sigloch said: "I've wanted Lou to be a catcher ever since he was old enough to put on a mitt, and I'm glad that he has had the opportunity to play under Jack Kelleher. I saw Jack play big league ball 20 years ago, and he was the same smart ball player and fine gentleman on the field then that he is today as Brown coach."

Miss Margery Cunningham, sister of Samuel W. Cunningham of Hope, R. I., to Frank Cutter '35 of Warwick Neck.

Miss Harriet Ann Curland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Curland of Providence, to David Horvitz '35 of Pawtucket.

Miss Ada Grace Graham, sister of Mrs. Helen Hardie of Cleveland, O., to Alfred W. Shepherd '36 of Providence.

Miss Gretchen Scholze, daughter of William F. Scholze '12 and Mrs. Scholze of New Milford, Conn., to Geoffrey Graham '36 of New York City, son of Alexander Graham '06 and Mrs. Graham. Miss Scholze's brother is Frederick Scholze '43. She is a graduate of Edgewood Park Junior College '37.

Miss Prudence Cleveland Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Watson Hall Smith of Providence, to Austin Peck '37, also of Providence. Miss Smith attended Vassar College.

Miss Helen J. Whitaker, daughter of Mrs. Philip M. Maulsby of Providence, to George A. Beaven, Jr., '37 of Pawtucket.

Miss Carolyn Wastcoat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wastcoat of Taunton, Mass., to T. Brenton Bullock '38 of Waban, Mass., son of George B. Bullock '05 and Mrs. Bullock.

Miss Eleanor Vale Wright, daughter of Arthur Wright of Pawtucket, to Anthony C. Shabica, Jr., '38 of Meadville, Pa.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Carter, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Carter of North Dartmouth, Mass., to Robert S. Burgess '38 of Providence, son of Dr. Alexander M. Burgess '06 and Mrs. Burgess.

Miss Jane Clapp, daughter of Professor and Mrs. John M. Clapp of Rutherford, N. J., to Samuel B. Burgess '39 of Providence, son of Dr. Alexander M. Burgess '06 and Mrs. Burgess.

Miss Thelma Thomas Smith, daughter of Leon E. Smith '12 and Mrs. Smith of East Providence, to Clifton B. Brown '39, also of East Providence.

Miss Eleanor R. Trant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Mark Trant of Edgewood, to Thomas J. Quinn, Jr., '39 of Providence.

Miss Helen Marie Gill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward F. Gill of Providence, to Robert T. Engles '40 of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Providence.

Miss Eunice Elizabeth Linden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. P. Linden of Providence, to John G. Porritt '40, also of Providence. Miss Linden is an alumna of Wheaton College.

Miss Mary Elliott Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson of Glen Ridge, N. J., to Stuart C. Sherman '39 of Providence.

Miss Alyce D. Beaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Beaton, to Robert L. Seekens, Jr., '39 of Providence.

WEDDINGS

▶ 1928—John Drysdale and Miss Eleanor Dickey, daughter of Mrs. Maurice W. Dickey, on Sept. 14, 1940, in Springfield, Mass.

1929—F. Charles Hanson and Miss Grace Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alban Williamson of North Providence, on July 17, 1940. Dr. and Mrs. Hanson are at home at 194 Angell St.

1931—Lloyd G. Briggs and Miss Virginia M. Briggs, daughter of Judge Walter A. Briggs '06 and Mrs. Briggs of Attleboro, Mass., at the Unitarian Church, Dighton, Mass., on June 29, 1940. Mrs. Briggs is a graduate of Pembroke College in the class

AMERICA'S FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

NOT Europe, not even those outlying naval bases that protect our shores—America's first line of defense is American industry. It is to industry that the nation looks today for the armaments to protect America's high living standards, to defend the American way of life.

In the last two generations American industry has built a great nation. Its workmen, scientists, and engineers have helped produce and put to work more than one-third of the world's electric power and one-half of its mechanical energy. They have given us electric lights in 24 million American homes and electric refrigerators in 13 million—conveniences which represent the highest standard of living and the greatest industrial achievement in the world. And the manpower, the inventive and manufacturing genius, the experience, the daring to tackle difficult tasks—assets which have helped to produce this high standard of living—are among America's strongest resources today.

Not a cannon, but the 130,000-pound shaft for a great electric generator being built in the General Electric shops in Schenectady. When completed, the generator will deliver 75,000 horsepower of electricity.

Industry today undertakes the task of building, not only armaments, but, equally important, the machines that can be used to manufacture these armaments in quantity sufficient for any emergency. And General Electric scientists, engineers, and workmen, who for more than 60 years have been putting electricity to work in America's peacetime pursuits, are today turning to the new job—the job of defending the benefits electricity has helped to create.

G-E research and engineering have saved the public from ten to one hundred dollars for every dollar they have earned for General Electric

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

952-770

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

of 1934. Calvin Gordon '39, John Davis '29, and Herbert Phillips '34 were ushers.

1931—Paul L. Thayer and Miss Genevieve Lynskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynskey of East Providence, on June 27, 1940, at Riverside.

1931—Allen J. Arnold and Miss Loretta Simpson, daughter of Mrs. Anna Riley, on May 4, 1940, in Providence. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are at home at 21 Voorhees Ave., Kingston, N. Y.

1932—Alonzo Foster, Jr., and Miss Martha Louise Girt on Aug. 6, 1940, in New York City.

1932—Sidney Ballon and Miss Jean Hymson, of Columbia, S. C., on July 27, 1940, in New York City.

1932—James C. White to Miss Marjorie Clement on Aug. 17, 1940, in Minneapolis, Minn.

1932—T. Dexter Clarke and Miss Anne Hatheway were married Sept. 28, 1940, at St. John's Episcopal Church, West Hartford, Conn.

1932—Fred E. Bailey and Miss Helen A. Quinn of Knickerbocker Rd., Englewood, N. J., were married May 18 in Englewood.

1934—Roland G. Newcombe and Miss Elizabeth Ley, daughter of Mrs. Sydney A. Ley and the late Mr. Ley on June 29, 1940, in Providence.

1934—Chester H. Page and Miss Corella Tinkham of Springfield, Mass., on Aug. 17, 1940, in Warren. Kenneth Starratt '33, was an usher. Mr. and Mrs. Page will make their home in Easton, Pa., where Mr. Page is on the faculty of Lafayette College.

1935—John S. Cuthbert and Miss Joyce

Kirkland on Aug. 8, 1940, in Old Lyme, Conn.

1935—Sidney Johnson, Jr., and Miss Miriam Hallen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hallen of East Providence, on Aug. 3, 1940, at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in East Providence. Edmond H. Guerin, Jr., '36, was the best man and John Nolan '36 was one of the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will live in South Barre, Mass.

1936—John S. Buckley and Miss Jane Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic L. Oliver, on July 27, 1940, at Winchester, Mass. The couple are living in Los Angeles.

1936—Theodore Tannenwald, Jr., and Miss Selma Ruth Peterfreund, daughter of Mrs. Lous Peterfreund of New York City, were married on Aug. 3, 1940, in Washington, D. C.

1936—G. O. Fieldler and Miss Alveretta W. Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Bailey of Providence, were married on Sept. 4, 1940, at the home of the bride's parents, Sheldonville, Mass.

1936—Alfred J. Owens and Miss Alice Rankine, daughter of Mrs. Alton Rankine of North Scituate, on July 27, 1940, at Grace Episcopal Church, Providence. Andrew Jack '36, of Hartford, Conn., and John O. Shepard '36, of Brockton, Mass., were ushers. The Owens are living in Warwick.

1936—Philip J. Lappin and Miss Anita Bissonnette, daughter of Aurore Bissonnette, on Aug. 3, 1940, in Pawtucket.

1936—John E. Deignan and Miss Dorothy Holdsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clifford Holdsworth, on August 3 in Providence.

1936—Abbey Surrey and Miss Beverly Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Roth of New York and Augusta, Me., April 21, 1940.

1937—Raymond E. Leonard and Miss Letitia Parker, daughter of Mrs. Henry T. Parker of Norwich, Conn. The marriage took place at St. Mary's Church, Norwich, on Sept. 7, 1940.

1937—Jay A. Jacobs and Miss Phyllis Austin Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hulbert Austin, on Aug. 31, 1940, at Montclair, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs are at home at 160 Watchung Ave., Montclair.

1938—William F. Durgin and Miss Mary Louise Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Albert Walker of Providence on July 27, 1940, in Cumberland, R. I., at the Walkers' summer home. Mr. Durgin is the son of Arthur D. Durgin '14 and Mrs. Durgin of Wellesley Hills, Mass.

1938—Donald V. LaVine and Miss Sally R. Birney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Birney of Stratford, Conn., were married on Sept. 21, 1940.

1938—Edward C. Heintz and Miss Barbara Houston of Haverhill, Mass., were married on Aug. 17, 1940. They are living at 923 Forest Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich., where Mr. Heintz is studying at the University of Michigan.

1938—William O'Donnell and Miss Helen MacKenzie of Everett, Mass., on July 21, 1940, at the Universalist Church, Malden, Mass. The O'Donnells are living at 5434 N. Kenmore Ave., Chicago, Ill.

1938—James W. Gurll, Jr., and Alice Louise Calder (Pembroke '34), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Calder, were married in Providence, Aug. 10, 1940. Francis D. Gurll '31, was his brother's best man and D. Stuart Campbell '37, was

Prophetic Roommate

► WHEN Abbey Surrey '36 was a freshman at Brown, his roommate and classmate Joe Gerstl bet him he'd be married by July 1, 1940. Guessing ahead by nearly eight years, Joe hit the nail on the head for Abbey by just 70 days. Mr. and Mrs. Surrey are now living at the Hotel Raleigh, 121 West 72nd St., New York. ◀ an usher. Mr. and Mrs. Gurll are at home at 210 Waterman St., Providence.

1939—William W. Parker to Miss Jean Banigan in June, 1940.

1940—Kirk Hanson and Miss Natalie Grinnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grinnell of Providence, on June 22, 1940 in Providence. John Slattery '38 was best man.

1940—John Rosenthal and Miss Roberta Bliss, (Pembroke '41), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bliss, in Boston, Mass., July 28, 1940.

BIRTHS

► 1923—To Mr. and Mrs. Francis Otis Allen of Providence, a son, David Clark, Aug. 2, 1940.

1923—To Mr. and Mrs. John E. O'Neil of North Providence, a third child, David Joseph O'Neil, April 25, 1940.

1924—To Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hassell of New York City, a son, Everett Gordon, July 13, 1940.

1927—To Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Burton of Providence, a second son, Edward Gould, July 20, 1940.

1928—To Mr. and Mrs. Edmund I. Waldman of Providence, a son, Myron Richard, July 8, 1940.

1929—To Rev. and Mrs. Winthrop H. Richardson of Taunton, Mass., a third son, Samuel Adams Richardson, July 21, 1940.

1930—To Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Bianchini of Providence, a son, Robert Vincent, July 25, 1940.

1930—To Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Lingham of Littleton, Mass., a daughter, Jean Bancroft, June 6, 1940.

1931—To Mr. and Mrs. David M. Cameron of Pawtucket, a son, Alan Garrett, June 4, 1940.

1932—To Mr. and Mrs. Woodley L. Wright of Warwick Neck, a daughter, Barbara Jean, July 16, 1940.

1933—To Mr. and Mrs. William G. Bradshaw of Providence, a second son, William Jackson, July 22, 1940.

1933—To Rev. Read Chatterton and Mrs. Chatterton of New Fairfield (Danbury), Conn., a second daughter, Louise Brown, July 7, 1940. Their first daughter, Sara Jean, was born July 6, 1938, and duly reported in the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Denver E. Evans of Jokake, Ariz., a second daughter, Jane Bradley, July 27, 1940. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Dr. Emery M. Porter '06.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Cyril M. Owen of Tilton, N. H., a daughter, Jean, May 3, 1940.

1935—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Moss, Jr., of Providence, a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, Aug. 14, 1940.

1935—To Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Lyman of Elm Farm, Ashby, Mass., a daughter, Janet Chapman, July 10, 1940.

1936—To Mr. and Mrs. John T. Berge-son of Newton Centre, Mass., and New York City, a son, John Field, July 4, 1940.

Providence National Bank

ESTABLISHED 1791
100 Westminster Street

CAPITAL $1,500,000
SURPLUS $2,000,000

OFFICERS

Moses J. Barber, Chairman of the Board
Thomas L. Pierce, President
Earl G. Batty, Vice President and Cashier
Charles L. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Henry H. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Charles E. Munyan, Assistant Cashier
Ida M. Fryer, Assistant Cashier
Benjamin H. Cate, Assistant Cashier
Rupert C. Thompson, Jr., Assistant Cashier
Charles M. Smith, III, Trust Officer
B. H. Lillibridge, Assistant Trust Officer

Directors

William Gammell, Jr. William L. Sweet
Moses J. Barber Frederick T. Moses
Frank E. Richmond John B. Lewis
Richard S. Aldrich Charles C. Marshall
Edward P. Jastram Richmond Viall
Earl G. Batty Maxwell C. Huntton
A. Livingston Kelley Charles E. Rigby
Wilson G. Wing Benjamin R. Sturges
Thomas L. Pierce William Slater Allen

Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

1936—To Mr. and Mrs. John H. Coogan, Jr., of Edgewood, a daughter, Susan Reed, July 10, 1940.

1936—To Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas U. Waterman of North Scituate, a son, Peter Utter, June 30, 1940.

1938—To Mr. and Mrs. B. Burt Titus of Brooklyn, N. Y., twins, Barbara Louise and Charles Barry, Sept. 7, 1940.

Completed Careers

Elroy L. Powers

▶▶ NOT an alumnus but a "loyal Brown man" was Elroy L. Powers of Rumford, who died July 29. As a member of the Providence Brown Club he maintained a fond and lively interest in the University he adopted as an Alma Mater. More than once he contributed printing from the Bear Press in Providence, of which he was superintendent, which added much to the pleasure of Brown gatherings. At the Bear Press he was in association with George J. Heidt '18.

1876

▶ PORTER LEMUEL WOOD, teacher and retired attorney, was born in Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 19, 1852, the son of Richard A. and Mary E. (Johnson) Wood; died Seymour, Conn., May 18, 1940. He attended Louville Academy in New York and Suffield Academy before entering Brown in 1872. After leaving the University in 1874 he taught school in Waterbury, New Milford, and Bristol, Conn., and was admitted to the bar in 1884.

In 1920 he went to Seymour, Conn., and practiced law there until his retirement about five years ago. He was married Aug. 12, 1879, to Miss Jennie S. Gidley, who died Nov. 28, 1899; and on December 24, 1903, he married Estelle S. Curtiss, who survives, with three daughters, Mrs. Charles Harris, Mrs. William Ringenberg, and Mrs. Harry Hussey. His fraternity was Sigma Phi.

1879

▶ GEORGE FOLGER BARNARD died at Warner, N. H., June 2, 1940. Mr. Barnard was born in Bristol, R. I., on September 2, 1850, the son of Albert W. and Mary A. Barnard. He prepared at the Worcester Academy. After leaving Brown he became manager of the Good Will Home Association and was later headmaster of the Holy Cross School in Manchester, N. H. From 1919 he was the rector at Grafton, N. H. He left no survivors.

1881

▶ WILLIAM SHEAFE CHASE, retired rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, died July 16, 1940, at King's Park, L. I., at the age of 82 years. Canon Chase was born in Amboy, Ill., on Jan. 11, 1858 but passed most of his boyhood in Providence. After graduating from Brown he attended the Episcopal Theological Seminary at Cambridge, Mass., and received his degree in 1885. In 1892 he became Chaplain of St. Paul's School, Garden City, L. I., and honorary canon of the cathedral of the Incarnation there. He later served as preacher in Boston and Woonsocket, R. I., and was rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Brooklyn from 1932. Canon Chase was author of several books and had been an officer in a number of reform organizations. His career as a reformer covered about 40 years and his defense of his position was always vigorous. He frequently testified before committees of Congress and the New York State Legislature and during the Prohibition era he was especially active in seeking continuance of the Volstead Law. He is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Fannie Louise Chase, a daughter, Miss Dorothy Chase, and a son, Newton G. Chase '07.

▶ ELLWOOD G. MACOMBER died July 28, 1940 at Bridgewater, Mass. He was born at Portsmouth, R. I., December 30, 1857, the son of Joseph Macomber and Finis (Borden) Macomber. He entered Brown from the Friends School in Providence.

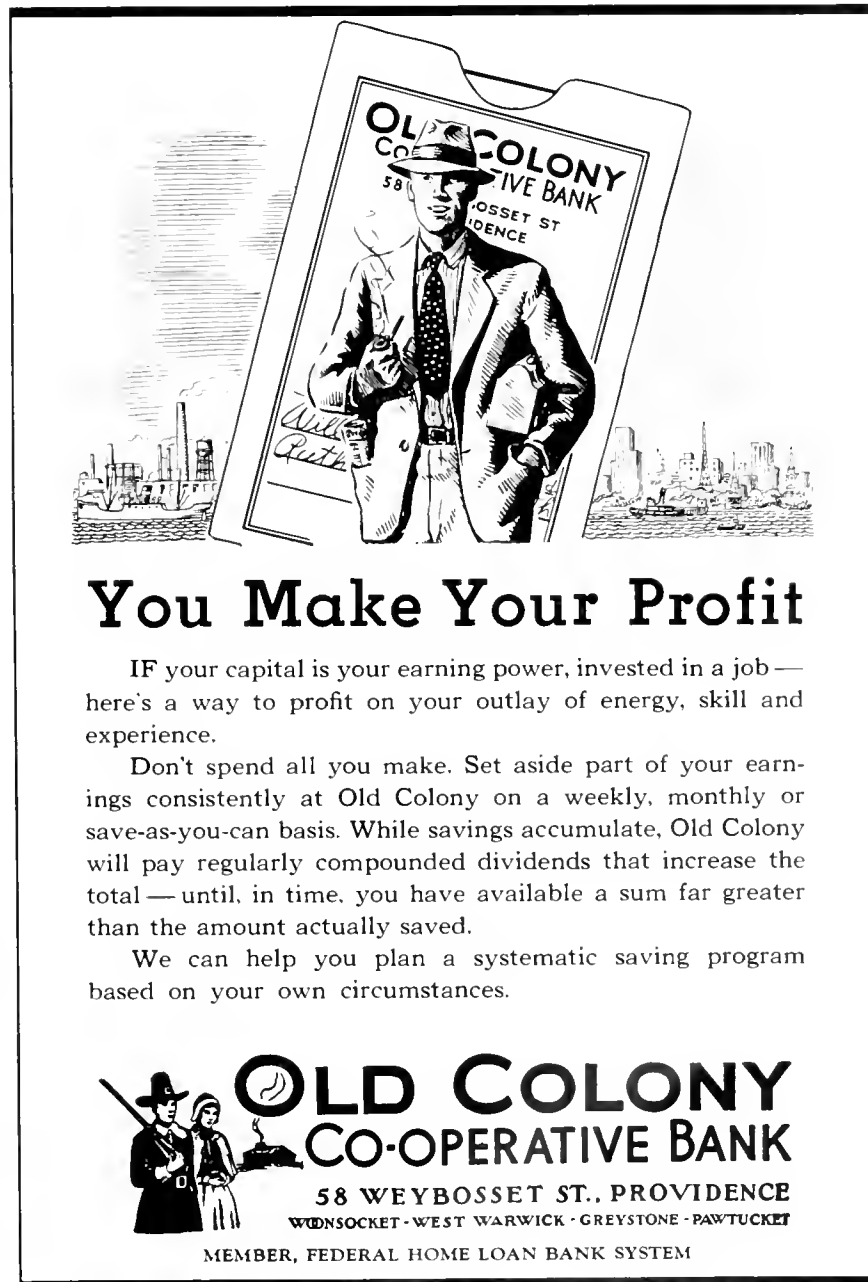

After leaving the University in 1878 he was a farmer in Portsmouth for several years and later became a machinist in Boston. In 1896 he married Grace Brownell who survives him with one daughter, Mrs. O. J. Lyman.

1882

▶ STEWART CHAPLIN died Sept. 5, 1940 at his home in Woodstock, N. Y., at the age of 81 years.

Mr. Chaplin was born July 10, 1859 at East Abington the son of Jeremiah and Jane (Dunbar) Chaplin. After graduating from Brown he received his LL.B. from Columbia University in 1886 and two years later became a lecturer at the Columbia Law School. He was later a professor of law in the Columbia Law School and Assistant General Counsel at the Solway Process Company. He numbered among his published works "The Suspension of the Power of Alienation."

His grandfather, Jeremiah Chaplin, was a member of the class of 1799 and his son, William W. Chaplin was graduated in 1918. On April 4, 1893 he married Mary Watts, who survives him with three sons and three daughters.

You Make Your Profit

IF your capital is your earning power, invested in a job — here's a way to profit on your outlay of energy, skill and experience.

Don't spend all you make. Set aside part of your earnings consistently at Old Colony on a weekly, monthly or save-as-you-can basis. While savings accumulate, Old Colony will pay regularly compounded dividends that increase the total — until, in time, you have available a sum far greater than the amount actually saved.

We can help you plan a systematic saving program based on your own circumstances.

OLD COLONY CO-OPERATIVE BANK
 58 WEYBOSSET ST., PROVIDENCE
 WOONSOCKET - WEST WARWICK - GREYSTONE - PAWTUCKET
 MEMBER, FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM

1883

► HERBERT HUNTINGTON LAMSON, M.D., who died at his home in Plymouth, N. H., March 30, 1940, was instructor in natural sciences at Plymouth Normal School for 35 years before retirement in 1938. He was Faculty adviser for student government, and "in his forceful years was practically the guiding hand, next to the president, of the Plymouth school." He was also known as a delightful after-dinner speaker.

Born in Windsor, Vt., Feb. 6, 1861, the only child of Albert and Jane (Huntington) Lamson, he grew up in the home of his grandparents and came to Brown from Windsor High School. Leaving in Sophomore year, he worked and taught school, studied medicine at the old Dartmouth Medical School, and won his M.D. degree in 1888. But interest in natural science led him to a teaching career. From 1889 to 1903 he was instructor and then Professor of Botany at what is now the University of New Hampshire and botanist and bacteriologist at the New Hampshire Experiment Station. In 1903 he went to Plymouth Normal School, retiring in 1938 with colleagues, former students and undergraduates praising him as "a rare soul and a great teacher."

Dr. Lamson in 1896 married Miss Geffa K. Leavitt of Hanover, who survives. He was a former member and Past Master of Plymouth Grange.

1888

► CHARLES EDWARD DENNIS died Aug. 1, 1940 in Providence. Dr. Dennis, who resigned as principal of Hope Street high school in 1925, was graduated from Providence High School in 1884 and after receiving his degree from Brown received his A.M. degree in 1890 and his Ph.D. degree five years later. He taught Greek and modern languages in Suffield, Conn., and then became teacher of Greek and Latin in the Providence High School. He became principal of Hope High School in 1901. From 1897 to 1901 he lectured on the history of education at Brown and gave special lectures on Johann Friedrich Herbart, educational theorist. Dr. Dennis was a pioneer in the scientific study of education and teachers' pensions and was president of the State Institution of Instruction, the Barnard Club, and the Brown University Teachers' Association. In 1890 he married Eugenia Warner who survives him with a daughter, Dorothy W. Dennis.

1895

► EUGENE C. WILLIAMS died in Pawtucket, R. I., April 12, 1940. He had been chief draftsman for Fales & Jencks Inc., in Pawtucket for 30 years.

Mr. Williams was born in Pawtucket Oct. 3, 1871 and after graduating from Brown he was employed by the R. I. Locomotive Works and then went with Fales & Jencks. He was a direct descendant of John Alden, a member of the Alden Kindred of America, and a member of St. Paul's Church in Pawtucket. He was married in 1922 to Miss Anna C. Edgecomb, who survives.

1896

► DR. WILLIAM AVERY GAYLORD died in Pawtucket, R. I., May 22, 1940. He was born in Pawtucket, July 1, 1874, the son of William and Elvira (Orswell) Gaylord. He had practiced medicine in his native city for more than 40 years. He was educated in Pawtucket schools and at Cole's private school there. After two years at Brown he entered Harvard Medical School where he finished his medical education in 1899. In 1900 he established his practice in Pawtucket and eventually became a member of the consulting staff at the Pawtucket Memorial Hospital. He was married April 24, 1912 to Miss Mary M. Trumpler who survives. His fraternity was Theta Delta Chi.

► ALLISON STONE, publisher of the Providence Journal since 1938, died at the Hope Club in Providence, Sept. 11, 1940.

Mr. Stone was born in Providence July 17, 1873, the son of Charles Morgan and Sarah Frances (Hart) Stone. He attended the Classical High School and then entered Brown where he was managing editor of Liber Brunensis, a member of Alpha Delta Phi. After leaving college he joined the firm of Brown Brothers and in 1901 he became the general purchasing agent of the New England Cotton Yarn Company. In 1912 he became partner in the investment firm of C. A. Kilvert & Company. On Dec. 3, 1917 he joined the Providence Journal Company and in 1921 was made Business Manager. In 1924 he was appointed General Manager and was elected to the company's Board of Directors in 1936. In 1938 he became Publisher.

He was a member of the Agawam Hunt and the Turks Head Clubs.

1897

► EDGAR ALEXANDER LEWIS, a teacher in the Bath, N. Y. public schools for many years died April 16, 1940 in Rochester, N. Y.

After leaving Brown he entered high school teaching and from 1916 to 1922 was principal of Haverling High School, Bath, N. Y. From 1923 until the time of his death he was superintendent of the Bath public schools. He was married and had one son, Robert R. Lewis, who died May 23, 1922.

1902

► PROFESSOR WILLIAM ROBERT PARK-HURST DAVEY, Ph.D. of Syracuse University, died Aug. 4, 1940 in Syracuse, N. Y.

Dr. Davey was born in London, England, July 22, 1877. After leaving Brown he attended Harvard Divinity School, studied classics and became an instructor at Harvard, a post he held until he joined the Syracuse faculty in 1911. He was a popular lecturer and at the time of his death was professor of Greek and Semitic languages.

In 1914 he married Miss Elizabeth Cleasby who survives him, with a son, Dr. Harold W. C. Davey, of the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago.

1903

► LESLIE ROBERT HICKS, a resident of Springfield, Mass., died Aug. 29, 1940. Mr. Hicks had been an electrical engineer since his graduation from Brown and was employed by the Gibbs & Hill Co. of New York at the time of his death.

Born in Port Henry, New York, Oct. 4, 1880, he attended Philip's Academy, Andover, Mass. At Brown he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. His fraternity was Delta Upsilon. After graduating he was for a time with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, N. Y., and then became a lighting engineer for the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago railroad. In 1909 he went to Fall River, Mass., as superintendent of the Fall River Electric Light Co. He then traveled for the Electric Bond and Share Co. in Brazil, and in 1929 became associated with the Charles H. Tenney Co. of Boston, and later with Gibbs & Hill. He was a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and Mt. Hope Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Fall River.

Mr. Hicks is survived by a son, Leslie, Jr., of Wenham, Mass., a daughter, Elizabeth of Springfield, and a sister, Mrs. W. B. Garretson of Hammond, Indiana.

► EDWARD WINSLOW HOLMES, Ph.B., J.B., lawyer, editor, and loyal Brunonian, died at his home in Rochester, N. Y., August 2, 1940, after an illness of six weeks. He was an original petitioner for the establishment of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity on the Hill and one of the first members initiated into the chapter.

Born Dec. 22, 1880, the son of Ezra and Frelove S. B. Holmes, he prepared at New Bedford High School, where he was president of the Class of 1899. At Brown he was on the bowling team, was president of the Brown Bowling Association in Senior year and a director of the old Sears Reading Room. He likewise shone as a student, winning election to Phi Beta Kappa.

From Brown he went to Boston University Law School, received the J.B. degree in 1906 and after admission to the Massachusetts bar practiced law in New Bedford. He subsequently practiced in Denver, Colo., and Clayton, N. M. During the World War he was in the Zone Supply Service on duty at the War Department, Washington, and later became an examiner in the Corporation and Excess Claims Department. In 1923 he went to Rochester as editor with the Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company and held that place until his death.

Brown was always in his thoughts. Working for Brown with fellow Brown men was his delight. In New Bedford he was secretary and treasurer of that city's Brown Club. When he went to Washington he

THE BLACKSTONE CANAL NATIONAL BANK of Providence

ESTABLISHED 1831 • • • 20 MARKET SQUARE

Capital $500,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits (over) $1,000,000

All Forms of Commercial Banking and Trust Service

MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

immediately joined the Brown Club there as an active member. In Rochester he had been president and secretary of the Brown Club, and he was ever ready to take time out of his busy hours to play his part in the club's activities. He was also the most faithful of correspondents.

He was married Aug. 25, 1923, to Gladys Allen Smith, who survives, with two sons, Edward W. Holmes, Jr., and Allen C. Holmes, a sister, and a brother. Edward, Jr., has applied for admission to Brown in 1943.

1905

► WILLIAM JOHN LAMKIE, who died May 23, 1940 in New York City after a long illness, was an authority and writer in his field of industrial relations. He was called on to make surveys in all parts of this country and Canada with regard to labor and production. A business consultant in such matters, he was president of the Equitable Industrial Relations Service and previously had been industrial secretary or director of industrial relations for such corporations as Air Nitrates Corporation, Muscle Shoals, and The General Chemical Company. He had been executive secretary of the Westchester County Association of General Contractors in New York and a member of the Rockland County Chamber of Commerce. For a year he had also been a member of the U. S. Shipping Board.

Mr. Lamkie's earlier experience had been in the field of education and social service. After graduation from Brown he taught at the Hoosac School for a year then was founder and principal of the Tharsby Institute in Alabama. From 1907 to 1911 he was educational director of the International Committee, Army and Navy Department of the Y. M. C. A., then served as secretary of the Y. in Northampton, Mass., where he also organized and directed the Boy Scouts and other social agencies. He was a leading figure in the Big Brother Movement in New York City and was director of the Department of Municipal Problems at N. Y. U. from 1912 until 1915, when he entered upon his work in industrial relations and made his first survey of economic life.

He was born the son of John and Mary Lamkie in Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 19, 1880. He prepared for Brown at Mt. Hermon School. As a Brown undergraduate he was captain of varsity track and also played football and baseball. He was treasurer of his class, a member of the Class Day Committee, and secretary of the Brown Union. In June, 1911, he married Tydvil J. Jones, who survives him with two sons, Robert and William J., Jr.

1906

► THE Rev. Dr. John E. Flemming, pastor of the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., since 1929, died June 13, 1940, after a two-months' illness. His age was 62 years.

Dr. Flemming had been president of the Brooklyn Bible Society for several years until his death, and had served as moderator of the Brooklyn-Nassau Presbytery for a year until the Spring of 1939.

Born on Feb. 1, 1878, in Lansford, Pa., he was the son of John and Almira Miller Flemming. He left school at the age of 14 to enter the textile industry. Later he turned to steel work, becoming a master molder and rising at the age of 20 to the assistant managership of a steel mill.

Deciding soon afterward to become a minister, he resumed his schooling, first at Mount Hermon School. In 1906 he was graduated from Brown University, where he was a member of the varsity football and baseball teams. He studied theology at Auburn (N. Y.) Seminary, and at the same time served as assistant minister of the South Presbyterian Church in Syracuse.

Upon graduation from the seminary, Dr. Flemming took charge of settlement work at Hope House on the lower East Side of this city for the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions. He opened one of the first vacation Bible schools and for a time was assistant minister of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church.

In 1914 he became minister of the Olivet Presbyterian Church in Easton, Pa., and in 1923 went to the First Presbyterian Church in Marion, Ind.

During the World War Dr. Flemming, for a year beginning in December, 1917, was field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. After the war he was chairman of the Grant County, Ind., chapter of the American Red Cross and became a founder of the K. B. F. Society, Kiwanis International's honorary scholarship society for high schools.

Dr. Flemming received a D.D. degree from the College of the Ozarks in Clarksville, Ark. He was a Mason.

He leaves a widow, the former Helen M. Dungan of Chester, Pa.; a son, John E. Flemming, Jr. '33, of Summit, N. J., and three sisters, Mrs. Wesley R. Morgan, Mrs. Samuel J. Sterrett and Miss Bertha Flemming, all of Chester.

In notifying the ALUMNI MONTHLY of his death, C. A. Hull '99 wrote: "Dr. Flemming was well known in all religious activities, very prominent in Greater New York, a man who made great use of his talents. His remarkable work and reputation has honored Brown." Jeremiah Holmes '02 spoke of the funeral as deeply impressive, for Dr. Flemming was widely mourned.

1908

► NATHAN STERNISHER, for 25 years an attorney in Fall River, Massachusetts, died suddenly April 24, 1940. He was born in New York City and after graduating from Brown, Mr. Sternsher attended Harvard Law School where he received his LL.B. in 1913. He then practiced in Providence and Boston and went to Fall River in 1915.

Mr. Sternsher was a member of the Fall River Rent Commission and was a special counsel for many city departments. In 1929 he was a candidate for District Attorney on the Democratic Ticket. He was a member of the Massachusetts and Fall River Bar Associations, the Elks, Counsel of Boy Scouts, and one-time president of the Men's Club of Temple Beth-el. He was also a trustee of the Bradford Durfee Textile School. Surviving are his wife Eleanor (Bernard) Sternsher and two sons, David and Bernard.

1919

► MAURICE ISAAC GREEN, President of Brisk Brothers, custom tailors, of New York, died July 8, 1940 in New York City.

Mr. Green was born in London, England, Oct. 30, 1895 the son of Samuel and Dora (Brisk) Green. He attended the Morse High School in Bath, Maine and after one year at Colgate University entered Brown in 1916. After receiving his degree he joined the U. S. Rubber Company and then held several positions with the Thomas A. Edison Company.

"THIS PRECIOUS SHADE —
of sixty summers' spreading"
— can only be replaced in sixty summers more

Annual inspection is necessary to prevent the development of unseen decay and progressing disease. Let us advise you the measures necessary to keep your trees in vigorous health. The cost of proper care is negligible compared to the value of a fine tree.

We are qualified by twenty-five years experience

PRUNING • SPRAYING • SURGERY EXPERT CONSULTATION

THE L. H. MEADER CO.
ESTABLISHED 1914

L. H. MEADER '09
President

STANTON S. C. BABCOCK Manager

WALTER H. SNELL, Ph.D. '14
Consultant

75 Westminster St., PROVIDENCE, R. I.

TELEPHONE GASPEE 0556

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

In June 1930 he married Frances Shapero who survives him. A nephew Paul Shapero is in the senior class at Brown.

1926

▶ EDGAR V. F. MCCRILLIS, Providence attorney, died suddenly Sept. 1, 1940, at his summer home at Warwick Neck, R. I. Mr. McCrillis, though born in New York City had spent most of his life in Rhode Island. He graduated from Classical High School and after leaving Brown received his law degree from Harvard in 1929. While at Brown he was on the football, track, and wrestling teams.

Mr. McCrillis was a member of the Warwick City Democratic Committee, the Knights of Columbus, and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

He leaves his mother and father, Edgar S. and Katherine (McCormack) McCrillis, and a sister, Miss Katherine T. H. McCrillis.

1928

▶ GEORGE W. NIEDRINGHAUS, JR., died suddenly Jan. 4, 1940, at his home in St. Louis, Mo.

He was born in St. Louis Sept. 29, 1903, the son of George W. Niedringhaus and Fanita Hayward Niedringhaus. He attended the St. Louis Country Day School and Princeton Preparatory School before entering Brown. Leaving Brown in 1927, he became a teller with the Granite City National Bank, and later did special survey work for the D'Arcy Advertising Company. In 1930 he became Secretary and Treasurer of the Granite City Steel Company and in 1933 Secretary-Treasurer of the St. Louis Shipbuilding and Steel Company; he held both positions at the time of his death. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi. Mr. Niedringhaus is survived by his mother.

1936

▶ WORD has been received of the death of Arnold Bernard Posner a non-graduate of the class in New York City, April 12, 1940.

Mr. Posner was born June 14, 1915, the son of Thomas and Pauline (Muller) Posner. He attended the Roxbury School before entering Brown. He was a member of Pi Lambda Phi. After leaving Brown, he entered business with his father's firm, Thomas Posner & Company.

1905 Honorary

▶ GEORGE ALDER BLUMER, Litt. D., died in Providence April 26, 1940. The world famous psychiatrist was 82 years old.

Born in Sunderland, England, May 25, 1857, he was at one time superintendent of the N. Y. State Hospital at Utica, New York and in 1899 was chosen to hold a similar position at the Butler Hospital, Providence. He held this position until his retirement in 1922. Dr. Blumer was for a number of years editor of the American Journal of Psychiatry and was an officer in a number of medical societies, the Rhode Island School of Design, Providence Athenaeum and other institutions.

Pembroke Chronicle ◀ ◀

By GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL '10
Executive Secretary of the Alumnae Association

Staff Changes

▶ ▶ MISS MARY ROBINSON of Ithaca, N. Y., has been made supervisor of food service in the Pembroke dining halls and is in charge of all housekeeping details in the college residences. She is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers' College and received the B.S. degree from Cornell in institutional management. For ten years she was supervisor of dormitory dining rooms at Iowa State and she has been connected with restaurants and hotels in New York City. Last year she was dietitian at the Greenwood School in Ruxton, Maryland.

Miss Janice Van De Water of Brooklyn is an assistant in the speech department. She graduated from Barnard in 1938 and received her master's degree in speech at Teachers' College, Columbia University. Last year she was executive secretary of the Religions Drama Council of the Greater New York Federation of Churches.

Miss Louise G. Comer of Stratford, Conn. is head of residence at Angell House. She graduated from Barnard and is a candidate for her master's degree in mathematics at Brown.

Miss Barbara Howard of Farmington, Conn. is head of residence at Metcalf Hall. Last year she was secretary and assistant director at Reid Hall, American University Women's Club in Paris, and is now working as a graduate student at Brown in the department of Romance Languages.

Lillian F. Hicock of Southbury, Conn., who graduated from Brown in 1935, is head of the residence at East House and assistant to the Pembroke Social Director, Miss Mary Finch.

Dorothy Frost Cleasby '39 is assistant to the Pembroke librarian, Miss Dorothy Spofford.

Miss Mary Finch, Social Director, is head of residence at Miller this year instead of Metcalf, where she lived last year.

Mrs. Helen W. Stites, formerly head of Angell House, is now head of Sharpe House.

Miss Jean Randall, formerly head of Sharpe House, is now in charge of West House and she also assists Miss Robinson in the supervision of the food service.

A Formal Opening

▶ FOR the first time in many years, arrangements were made this fall to open Pembroke College with a formal convocation which members of the faculty attended in academic procession. Dr. Wriston presided at the Women's College opening and Dean Morris gave the convocation address. University faculty members attended Brown's opening ceremony at nine o'clock and an hour later met in the Crystal Room in Alumnae Hall to open the Pembroke College year.

CLASS NOTES

▶ ▶ 1899—Clara Tingley has returned from Burma, where she has taught for many years.

1900—Anna Buffinton is now living at 251 Olney St., Providence.

1907—Ethel Robinson Heckman is the proud possessor of a grandson, John F. Heckman 3d, born Sept. 4.

1913—Blanche G. Snow, an exchange teacher in Seattle, is living at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

1914—Helen Briggs and Doris Briggs Hathaway have the sympathy of the alumnae in the loss of their mother.

1914—Katherine Curry has our sympathy in the death of her mother.

1914—Hermione Dealey Dvorak is now living at 5010 18th Ave., N. E., Seattle, Wash.

1914—Elena Lovell Maymon and her husband are motoring through California and the West. While in Nevada they were the guests of their daughter, Audrey Maymon Beesley '38, who was married this summer. See weddings.

1920—Edith Bowen Chase is now living at 277 Glenwood St., Leonia, N. J.

1920—Dorothy Preston is to spend this year co-ordinating the Providence schools with industry, particularly from a retail selling point of view.

1923—Janet Chew Carroll has moved to 2947 Victoria Ave., Norfolk, Va.

1923—Ruth White is spending an autumn vacation in Florida. She has changed her home address to 74 Park St., Roxbury, Mass.

1924—Lois Munroe Chamberlain is now living near Pittsburgh. Her address is 61 A Warren St., Crafton, Penn.

1924n—Hazel Walker is an assistant to the Director of the School of Nursing at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

1926—L. Mae Daily and Bertha Daily Mournighan '30 have the sympathy of the alumnae in the loss of their mother.

1927—Lois Patton Palmer and family have moved from the Boston area to 13 Calvin St., Lynbrook, L. I.

PRINTERS since 1870

Seventy years YOUNG, a live, progressive organization, ever doing better things and knowing how to do many unusual things.

E. A. JOHNSON CO.

71 PECK STREET, PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

1930—Dorothy Hill visited South America last summer.

1930—Helena Hogan has just returned from a trip to California and the Canadian Rockies.

1930—Grace King Laurent and family have left Tennessee and are living at 408 Jackson Place, Alexandria, Va.

1932—Hope Buck Clifford and family have returned from California and are living at 306 Linden Ave., Montclair, N. J.

1934—Isabel Andrews is personal secretary and estate manager for a wealthy New York woman. About six months of each year will be spent in Aiken, S. C.

Off to Turkey

1934—Ethel C. Nichols sailed on September 5 to spend the next three years as an instructor in English at the American College for girls in Istanbul, Turkey. Five other instructors sailed with her. The trip was to be made by ship, plane, and train. Her address there is Amerikan Kiz Koleji, Arnavutkoy, Istanbul, Turkey.

1934—Mary Etting Summer and family are occupying their new home at 1590 Up-land Road, Huntington, West Virginia.

1934—Weslene Dolloff Troy and family have moved to 7 Sixth St., West Barrington.

1935—Frances Hazard is practising law in New York and is living at 333 West 53rd St., New York.

1935—Esme McIntyre has left the University of Tennessee to join the faculty of the New York State Agricultural College at Canton, N. Y.

1935—Martha Hamblin Myer and family are living at North Berwick, Me. They have bought a large house there and her husband, Dr. John C. Myer, has begun the practice of medicine.

1935—Carolyn Troy Watts and her husband are now living at 70 Shannon Ave., Athens, Ohio.

1936—Shirley Battey received her Ph.D. degree from Brown in June and is teaching at Skidmore College.

1936—Barbara Hubbard is studying at the Columbia Library School.

1937—Muriel Baker is teaching biology at Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Me.

1937—Dorothy Bliss is teaching this fall at the Winsor School in Boston.

1937—Mildred Pansy completed her graduate work at Vassar last June and is teaching music at Wheaton.

1937—Eleanor Stringer has a secretarial position in New York and is living at 500 West 111th St., Apt. 4-A.

1938—Martha Emmel has completed her course at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy and has a position in the Occupational Therapy Department of the Worcester State Hospital.

1938—Isabel Lion has a position with Baker, Jones, Hausauer, Inc., publishers, in Buffalo. She is in charge of the college year book department. For some years the company has published the Brun Mael. She is living at 479 Delaware Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

1938—Mary B. Palmer has been on a cruise to Australia, enlivened by free lance writing and an appendix operation.

1939—Martha Ahlman completed her graduate work at Smith and has a position in the John Hay Library.

We're Perpetual Post-Graduate Students ...and Proud of It!

If you can't come in, write for date of Frank Brothers
Exhibition in Your City

Cordovan Brogue, $17.75

We're students of shoes . . . always thinking about them, working on them, improving them. Then we transform thoughts into action and dreams into fact. The result is that we make the finest shoes in America, for quality-conscious men who appreciate style that is built in—not added on as an afterthought.

Frank Brothers

FIFTH AVENUE • 47th-48th Streets • NEW YORK

225 OLIVER AVENUE—PITTSBURGH, PA. • 112 WEST ADAMS STREET, FIELD BUILDING—CHICAGO, ILL.

1939—Constance Hathaway has a position as receptionist for the Deans at Brown, now located in University Hall.

1939—Eleanor Hall is studying at the Hartford Seminary.

1939—Louse Lyon is studying at the Columbia Library School and is living at Johnson Hall, 411 West 116th St., New York City.

1939—Albina Pysz is a staff nurse at Butler Hospital.

1940—Barbara Allen is a student teacher in the science department at the Mt. Pleasant High School.

1940—Lydia Briggs is social director of the Nursing School of the Rhode Island Hospital.

1940—Janet Collins has a position at Macy's. She is living at 3 Weehawken St., New York City.

1940—Janet Goulett has a position in the Office of the Recorder at Brown.

1940—Althea Hall is studying Architecture at the R. I. School of Design.

1940—Marjorie Leland is working in the John Hay Library.

1940—Sylvia McKay and her brother took a trip to Alaska during the summer.

1940—Helen Messenger is at the Simmons Secretarial School.

1940—Shirley Roberts has a position in the Graduate School at Brown.

1940—Frances Taft is studying at the Yale Medical School. She is living at 99 Howe St., New Haven.

Engagements

▶▶ 1935—Marjorie McCabe to Louis G. Wust, Providence College '30.

1936—Christine Louise O'Brien to Henry E. Owens of Edgewood.

1939—Helen Gill to Robert T. Engles, Brown '40.

1939—Doris McCutcheon to John Wadsworth Barry, Brown '39.

1940—Lois Gladding to Adolf F. Haffenreffer, Jr. Mr. Haffenreffer is a graduate of Governor Dummer Academy and Lehigh University.

1941—Priscilla Allen to Holbrook Bourne. Mr. Bourne is a graduate of R. I. State College and has done graduate work at M. I. T. He is connected with the State Health Department.

Weddings

▶ 1928—Josephine Nass was married to Victor J. Mullen, Brown '29, Aug. 30, 1940. They are living at 155 Norwood Ave., Edgewood, R. I.

1930—Jessie Nayer was married to Prof. Jesse Douglas June 30. Professor Douglas is a mathematician, holder of a Guggenheim fellowship, and a lecturer at Columbia University. He was formerly on the staff of M. I. T. and has been connected with the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

1931—Katherine Charters Scott was married to Stuart Fredericks Nasse at the United Presbyterian Church in Providence Sept. 14, 1940. Among her bridesmaids were Josephine Nass Mullen '28 and Katharine Nass '31n. Mr. and Mrs. Nasse are living at 186 Washington Ave., Providence.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1932—Rowena Sheldon Bellows, daughter of Sidney R. Bellows '07 and Beulah Sheldon Bellows '07, was married to Wilfred Rommel in the First Congregational Church (Unitarian) in Providence Aug. 5. Among her attendants were her sister Anita, '32, and Mary Hagan '32. Mr. Rommel is a graduate of North Dakota State College and is Research Assistant in the office of the Chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington. The Rommels are living at 2700 Que St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

1932—Gladys Elizabeth Hornbrook was married to Robert F. Osborne, Jr., Aug. 3, 1940 at the Washington Park Methodist Episcopal Church. They are living at 272 Indiana Ave., Providence.

1932—Marjorie Smith was married in April to John Harris, a graduate of the University of Washington, and is living at 320 Farmington Ave., Hartford, Conn.

1933—Mary Junia Irish was married to James H. Hines, Brown '33, June 22, 1940. They live at 74 Peace St., Providence.

1933—Marjorie Regina Patt was married to Philip Berkeley Kraus, Brown '31, June 20, 1940. Address: 28 East Lincoln Ave., Roselle Park, N. J.

1934—Alice L. Calder was married to James W. Gurll, Jr., Brown '38, Aug. 10. Mr. Gurll is Executive Secretary of the Brown Alumni Fund. The Gurlls are living at 210 Waterman St., Providence.

1934—Jessie Lebus was married to Hyman Fuchs July 21, 1940 in New York City.

1934—Elizabeth Whitaker was married to Gilbert Hall on June 22. Mr. Hall is a graduate of R. I. State College and is principal of the grammar school in Peace Dale. Mrs. Hall is teaching biology at Simmons College.

1935—Miriam Hallen was married to Sidney Johnson, Jr., Brown '35, in August at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in East Providence. The Johnsons are living in South Barre, Mass.

1935—Pearl Louise Miller was married to Charles Robert Wilks, Brown '34, July 13, 1940. Mr. Wilks is a test administrator for the Human Engineering Laboratory of Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken. Mr. and Mrs. Wilks are living at 103 Ninth St., Hoboken, N. J.

1935—Margaret Shaw Rich was married to Elmer Boyd Staats Sept. 14, 1940, in Woolrich, Penn. Mr. Staats was graduated from McPherson College in Kansas and has done graduate work at the University of Kansas, University of Minnesota, and at Brookings Institute in Washington. He is now with the Bureau of the Budget in Washington.

1935—Elizabeth Shaw was married to Robert B. Williams July 20, 1940. Mr. Williams graduated from Amherst and from the Harvard School of Business Administration. They are living at 21 Channing St., Cambridge.

1936—Jane Herr was married to Dr. Herbert J. Towle, Jr., Aug. 23, 1940. The Towles are living in the Waverly Apartments, Melrose, Mass.

1936—Dorothy Townsend Lovell was married to Edward Geremia Sept. 14, 1940, at the Church of the Redeemer in Providence. Mr. Geremia is a graduate of R. I. State College and the Boston University Law School. Mrs. Geremia is a member of the staff of the city's social welfare department. They are living at 257 Gano St., Providence.

1937—Dorothy Leah Nutman was married to Milton George Scribner, Brown '34, Sept. 1, 1940. The Scribners live at 186 Summit St., Pawtucket, R. I.

1938—Ruth Virginia Banks was married to Robert Outram Froling of Fargo, North Dakota at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Bloomfield, N. J., Sept. 7, 1940. Four of her classmates served as bridesmaids. They were Isabel Lion, Agnes Galligan, Virginia Hirst, and Shirley Rohlf. Mr. Froling graduated from North Dakota State College and is an engineer with the Curtis-Wright Corporation in New York. The Frolings are living at 37 Oak Grove Road, Caldwell, N. J.

1938—Audrey Champlin Maymon, daughter of Elena Lovell Maymon '14, was married to Edward Maurice Beesley in St. Mary's Episcopal Church in East Providence July 11, 1940. Elizabeth O'Laughlin '35 was maid of honor. Mr. Beesley is a graduate of Lafayette College and was an instructor at Brown for the past two years. He is now a member of the faculty of the University of Nevada. The Beesleys are living at 829 N. Virginia St., Reno, Nev.

1938—E. Catherine Phelps was married to Edward K. Bancroft, Brown '37, in Duxbury, Mass., June 22, 1940. They are living at Arden Terrace, 83-43 118th St., Kew Gardens, L. I., New York.

1938—Charlotte Rice was married to James C. Stafford, Jr., May 25, 1940, in the Church of the Transfiguration in Edgewood. Since then they have been living in Wakefield.

1939—Phyllis Sampson was married to Malcolm Wallis, Dartmouth '39, July 13, 1940, in West Alton, N. H. Ruth Sampson '35 attended her sister. Mr. and Mrs. Wallis are living at 26 Homeland St., Johnston, R. I.

1940—Jean Albright Bruce was married to Stanley Lincoln Cummings, Brown '40, in Summit, N. J., Aug. 24, 1940. Mrs. Cummings is an assistant in the Zoology Department at Northwestern University and Mr. Cummings is studying law at the University of Chicago.

1940—Elizabeth Anna Hunt, daughter of Frederic J. Hunt '15 and Mrs. Hunt, was married to Professor Detlev Walther Schumann at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Sept. 12, 1940. Ruth Hunt '40 was her sister's attendant. Mr. Schumann is associate professor of German at Brown. The Schumanns live at 10 Hazard Ave., Providence.

1940—Clara Newton Schwab was married to Gordon Gale Washach, Brown '39, on Aug. 10, 1940. They are living at the Ambassador Apartments, 1737 Cambridge St., Cambridge, Mass.

1940—Mary Shank was married to George Thorndike Poor at Lake Tahoe, Cal., in August. Mr. Poor attended Mercersburg Academy and Brown. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta. They live at 1012 Paradise Road, Swampscott, Mass.

1940—Hope Smith was married to Rev. Vaughn P. Starrett on Sept. 2, 1940. They are living in New Bedford.

1941—Roberta Bliss was married to John Block Rosenthal of Chicago, July 28 in Boston. They are at present in California, where they expect to enroll for further study in one of the universities. Mr. Rosenthal graduated from Brown last June. Mrs. Rosenthal was a regional scholar from Rhode Island and last year was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Births

► 1923—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Anderson (Olive Wildes), a fifth child, Marilyn Greene, June 18, 1940. Address: Prospect St., South Easton, Mass.

1927—To Prof. and Mrs. Fred C. Jonah (Anne Crawford), a second daughter, Carol Anne, Aug. 18, 1940. Address: 2964 Hampshire Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

1932—To Mr. and Mrs. John Moore Hills (Sally Ward), a daughter, Susan Moore, July 13, 1940. Edward Eyerly is four and Joseph Ward, named for his great grandfather, Joseph Ward, Brown '65, is now two. Address: Midland, Texas.

1933—To Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Beauchieu (Vivian McGoocy), a daughter, Susan Eugenia, Aug. 23, 1940. Address: 573 Park Ave., Woonsocket.

1933—To Mr. and Mrs. David M. Cameron (Edith M. Smith '33), a son, Alan Garrott, on June 4. Address: 122 Armistice Boulevard, Pawtucket.

1933—To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Ghering (Jenny Lind), a daughter, Ruth Lind, Aug. 7, 1940. Address: 325 West Penn St., Butler, Penn.

1933—To Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Schmidt (Ruth Lyon), a daughter, Helen Louise, July 15, 1940. Address: Smithtown Branch, L. I., N. Y.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Edmund I. Waldman (Janet Fain), a son, Myron Richard, July 8, 1940. Address: 141 Hillside Ave., Providence.

1938—To Dr. and Mrs. Irving Klompus (Ruth Mann), a daughter, Ann Roberta, Sept. 1, 1940. Address: 301 East High St., Bound Brook, N. J.

1938—To Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Lyman (Barbara Crosby), a daughter, Janet Chapman, July 10, 1940. Address: Elm Farm, Ashby, Mass.

1939—To Rabbi and Mrs. William G. Braude (Pearl Finklestein), a son, Joel Isaac, Aug. 29, 1940. Address: 160 Brown St., Providence.

advertisers engraving company

126 DORRANCE ST. PROVIDENCE, R. I.

TELEPHONE GASPEE 7094

"Picturize your Product"

1940 ATLANTIC FOOTBALL BROADCASTS

AGAIN this year, The Atlantic Refining Company will broadcast your football games.

As in other years, great care will be taken to give you the most accurate and exciting "word pictures" possible. Your commentator has been carefully trained in the art of play-by-play announcing. He knows football through and through. He will use advertising announcements sparingly—never when they might interrupt your enjoyment of the game.

When you are unable to attend one of the games listed below, tune in the most convenient radio station and enjoy thrilling football with Atlantic.

HAVE YOU TRIED ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH PLUS?

If not, get a tankful of this new motor fuel today. Its unusual mileage, anti-knock and acceleration qualities were definitely proved in the 100,000-mile Florida Road Test.

BROWN UNIVERSITY GAMES BROADCAST BY ATLANTIC

Sept. 28	WESLEYAN.....	WJAR
Oct. 5	RHODE ISLAND.....	WJAR
Oct. 12	COLGATE.....	WFBL, WGR, WHC WIBX, WJAR, WNB
Oct. 19	TUFTS.....	WJAR
Oct. 26	HOLY CROSS.....	WBRY, WDRC, WEE WMAS, WORC, WPRO
Nov. 2	YALE.....	WATR, WBRK, WEAN, WFEA WHA, WICC, WLLH, WLNH, WNAC WNBH, WNLC, WOR, WSAR, WSPR WSYB, WTAG, WTC
Nov. 23	DARTMOUTH.....	WJAR
Nov. 28	COLUMBIA.....	WJAR, WOR

THE ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY
Petroleum Products

Courtesy

We want your telephone service to be good and quick and cheap. But there's more to it than that. We want it to be courteous too.

No matter what the occasion, there's always time for a cheery "please" and a pleasant word of thanks. That is the Bell System way. It is one of the fine traditions of the telephone business.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

PREPAREDNESS—THE BELL SYSTEM IS PREPARED TO DO ITS PART IN THE NATION'S PROGRAM OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

